WAR OUTPUT FALLS SHORT OF GOAL IN JULY

Nelson Declares Production for Month 7 Per Cent Behind Schedule.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—Production Chief Donald M. Nelson reported today that while munitions productions increased 16 per cent last month, July output ran seven per cent behind expected performance, and "We must redouble our efforts NOW if we are to make our goal by the year's end."

Production progress has been uneven, Nelson said in his second war production report, and "the big job ahead of us right now is to bring our program into balance and make sure that we use our materials and facilities as wisely as possible."

For example, Nelson said, aircraft production in July showed an 11 per cent jump compared with June, but combat plane output fell short of expectations and, for the next few months, is not expected to reach the production planned earlier in the year.

Semi-independent production scheduling by the armed services and the maritime commission thus far has "resulted in some scheduling ahead of over-all productive capacity," Nelson reported, adding that it was now necessary to "reconcile our needs with our resources," by reducing some schedules and increasing others.

The WPB index of munitions productions showed output in July was three and a half times above November, 1941, the month prior to Pearl Harbor. Ordnance production was up 26 per cent over June, output of naval ships had increased 22 per cent, while merchant ship tonnage was up six per cent.

Despite difficulties in supply of some raw materials and semi-finished products, Nelson said available statistics showed that plant shutdowns and stoppages so far were sporadic rather than general.

"Any inference that the war effort as a whole is slowing down is unwarranted, he asserted, "although difficulties in maintaining such large monthly increases will become greater as we approach maximum output. This will mean increase planning, increase effort, and firm use of the production controls and materials controls that have been developed."

Discussing the "uneven" July production in relation to schedules, Nelson said that in some cases production outstripped the forecasts, but in others "forecasts" were not approached."

Production of medium tanks (measured numerically) was reported 35 per cent above June and "considerably ahead of schedules," while light tank production increased 15 per cent and also remained ahead of schedules.

Production of anti-aircraft guns increased sharply, one class of guns showing a gain of 64 per cent, while output of another class gained 50 per cent, both of them exceeding schedules by a wide margin."

With a few exceptions, production of ammunition and explosives also exceeded goals for the month with the record on heavy artillery was reported "mixed." Some classes of heavy artillery showed much better gains than others, and some types expected to go into production during the month failed to do so.

Reds Drive Nazis Back In Surprise Attack

Enemy Repulsed in Stalingrad Sector but Gains Initiative Generally in Southern Fighting.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Aug. 22 — Red army men drove back the Germans in the Kletskaya area of the Don bend northwest of Stalingrad by a surprise attack last night while the Germans generally maintained the defensive in other southern theaters, the Russians said today.

Close-quarter fighting developed from the Soviet thrust and the Nazi survivors were reported to have left on the battlefield 200 dead, two field guns, eight machineguns, 13 munitions trucks and a radio station.

This relatively limited operation and a report that Russian detachments, forced ever deeper into the central Caucasus, had pinched off and wiped out German vanguards in the hills southeast of Pyatigorsk were balanced by acknowledgment of sustained Nazi attacks southeast of Kletskaya, northeast of Kotelnikovski and southeast of Krasnodar.

Riflemen Hard Hit

Several small German forces, mostly automatic riflemen, which crossed the Don at its curve southwest of Kletskaya in an attempt to establish a bridgehead only about 40 miles from Stalingrad, were declared by Moscow newspapers to be suffering heavy punishment. A machinegun ambush accounted for about 60 of the riflemen, it was announced.

Soviet troops were said to be cutting down a German infantry column mouse-trapped behind a minor Nazi tank penetration southwest of the Stalingrad industrial center on the Volga.

Twelve times a 50-tank formation was declared wrecked out of action, one about 300 Germans killed in a battle against an unyielding Soviet front.

New Russian withdrawals were reported below Pyatigorsk and Krasnodar but the Soviet information bureau said Red army mortar crews of one unit killed over 1,000 German officers and men in three days and destroyed 12 tanks and a number of trucks.

A midnight communique indicated no abatement of the peril in the two-way thrust against Stalingrad but the eighth week of Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock's big push was ending with lines of the Red army still intact.

Nazis Repulsed in South

In the central Caucasus, German detachments assigned to the drive toward the Grozny and Baku oil fields were reported repelled yesterday southeast of Pyatigorsk.

Natural defenses of the Caucasian foothills appeared still to be behind the Russians conducting a fighting retreat south of Krasnodar, German-occupied Kuban river port. Soviet soldiers withdrew again in one sector, the communique said. More than 2,000 Germans were reported killed by a Russian unit in three days.

Soviet bombers and naval vessels hammered away at Adolf Hitler's factories and ships and a broadcast beamed to western Europe in peoples said that "a great United Nations offensive against Germany is now being prepared."

TAKEN BY DEATH

CHARLES W. KRAMER

DEATH TAKES C. W. KRAMER

Former Superintendent of The Star Dies; With Newspaper 38 Years.

Charles W. Kramer, 77, former mechanical superintendent of The Marion Star and for 38 years actively employed in the operation of the newspaper, died at 12:12 a. m. today in his home at 585 Vernon Heights boulevard, in failing health for some time, he had been bedfast for the last four months.

Mr. Kramer became identified with The Star in 1884, just 10 years after Warren G. Harding and Frank M. "Jack" Warwick purchased the paper from B. B. Dempster. At that time the entire personnel of The Star numbered 12. He served as foreman of the job plant until it was sold on June 20, 1923, at which time he became mechanical superintendent.

Helped Move Office

He supervised the remodeling and installing of the mechanical equipment when The Star site of business was transferred from the East Center street rooms now occupied by the Marion Water Co. to the present location on North State street, and took an active part in the "open house" on Memorial day of 1923 in the new quarters. When The Star was sold by President Harding to the Brush-Moore interests Mr. Kramer transferred his stock from the Harding Publishing Co. to Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., and retained the stock at the time of his death. Although he retired in 1932, Mr. Kramer kept in continuous touch with The Star until he was taken ill, retaining his notaryship and visiting the office daily to do notary work.

Mr. Kramer's entire life was associated with newspaper work. Prior to joining The Star staff he was identified with a newspaper in Marysville where he operated the job printing department, and he also worked on the Marion Mirror. He served as city treasurer for two terms about 30 years ago.

Wyandot Co. Native

Mr. Kramer was born near Upper Sandusky, Oct. 18, 1864 and was the oldest of five children born to G. G. Kramer, a native of Upper Sandusky, and Maria Huffman Kramer, whose birthplace was Hamilton, O. His marriage was to Miss India Drum, June 30, 1892, at Upper Sandusky. She survives with a son, Charles W. Kramer, Jr., and four daughters, Mrs. Philip Von Blon of Pelham Manor, N. Y., Mrs. Joseph Locke of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Delbert Thrush of Alliance, and Miss Ruth Kramer at home. Six grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Theodore Martin of Milwaukee, Wis., also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the residence, with Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Kramer was a member, officiating. Burial will be in the family plot in the Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the home after 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Pall bearers will be Ray Geer, F. E. Guthery, Grover C. Snyder, James C. Woods, M. C. Walters and Grover Thrush.

SEAPLANE BASE WIPED OUT ON MAKIN ISLAND

Major James Roosevelt Second in Command in Mid-Pacific Battle.

By The Associated Press

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, Aug. 22 — United States marines stood fast in their hard won positions in the Solomon islands today after wiping out a 700-man Japanese force which tried a stealthy night landing to pierce the American lines.

Other marines and American bluejackets, with Major James Roosevelt, the President's eldest son, one of their leaders, destroyed a Japanese seaplane base in an extension of the United States offensive to Makin Island, in the Gilbert group, 1,500 miles northeast of the American-held Solomons.

Communiques issued by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet, told of the flareup of fighting in which the enemy was surprised and destroyed.

Send Enemy Fleeing

In first detailed accounts of the Solomon island fighting, where the marines with a navy covering force captured Japanese positions and sent the enemy fleeing into hills and jungles, Admiral Nimitz related the destruction of the Japanese force.

Mopping up operations, with daily skirmishes between marine patrols and enemy detachments, have been in progress since the initial marine landings the night of Aug. 7, the communique said.

But last Wednesday night 700 well-equipped Japanese landed from high-speed boats outside the marines' lines, on an unnamed island, and attempted a breakthrough.

"During the darkness only hand to hand fighting was possible," the communique said, "but with the breaking of day the marines were able to maneuver. While one battalion held the front line another battalion moved to a flank and drove the then withdrawing Japanese to the beach.

"The action continued until late afternoon. Of the 700 Japanese, 670 are dead, the rest prisoners. Marine losses were 28 killed and 72 wounded."

Marines in the Solomons, commanded by Major General Alexander A. Vandegrift, U.S.M.C., thus "added another page to their history of outstanding achievement," the communique noted.

The communique also told of a marine patrol and a Japanese detachment in the Solomons last Wednesday, in which the Americans lost only six killed and 13 wounded while wiping out the enemy unit of 92 officers and men, who continued resistance "until the last man was killed."

Roosevelt Second in Command

Major Roosevelt, who in November, 1940, left film producing in Hollywood for active service in the marine corps, was second in command of the devil-dog detachment which raided Makin Island Aug. 17. The commander was Lieut. Col. Evaana P. Carlson.

Admiral Nimitz said the marines made a successful landing and accomplished their objective of destroying seaplane installations. Following the action, the force withdrew, the admiral said, giving a different version than the Tokyo radio which broadcast that a landing force of about 200

Amateur Day Plans For Tomorrow Completed

Final Details Worked Out for Program Scheduled To Start at Lincoln Park at 1 P. M.

Preparations for Marion's first annual Amateur Day program Sunday at Lincoln park were virtually complete today.

Highlights of the program include four softball games in which seven Marion teams and one from Bucyrus will participate, crowning of Miss Amateur Day, ball-throwing and base-running contests and drills by Co. H of the Ohio State Guard, the Marion Rifles and the women's ambulance corps.

The Lincoln park stadium gates will be opened at 12:30 p. m. for early comers. The program will get under way at 1 p. m. and will continue throughout the afternoon and early evening.

At a meeting of the Amateur Day committee last night in County Treasurer Marion Hinklin's office an almost complete revision of the original program was made.

The original program called for both the SWOC 1949 and Huber Manufacturing Co. softball teams to play. However, because of seven-day work scheduled both teams have necessarily withdrawn from the program. In their place, George Baum, Hunkin-Conkey employe who is general chairman of the Amateur Day program, has booked the Coca-Cola team, Commercial league champions, and the Universal Cooler team, second-ranking Industrial league club.

Also the originally scheduled tug-of-war between a Pollak Steel team and a Hunkin-Conkey 12-man team has been canceled because several members of the former team will be working on Sunday.

Boys' Game Scheduled

A girls' softball game, one of the highlights of the tentative program announced recently, has been replaced with a game between two East Side boys' teams. All the boys on the two clubs, known as the Chicago avenue and Reed avenue teams, are between 10 and 12 years old. They have played several games during the early summer months.

War work in Marion industrial plants has definitely put a crease in the original program. However, realizing the vital necessity of production in the war effort, the committee members pointed out that the ultimate goal of Amateur Day is to rehabilitate Marion's park system. All proceeds from this year's event and similar future programs will be used for recreational purposes only.

Following Sunday's program, the Marion Amateur Day association will become an active organization to further recreation of all types. It is the ultimate goal to form a city-sponsored recreational program and to establish a full-time recreation director here.

Program in Full

Here is the complete Amateur Day program:

Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, will officiate for flag-raising ceremonies at the start of the all-afternoon program. County Treasurer Hinklin, temporary director of defense recreation in the county, will speak briefly and will introduce Lloyd W. Reese of Washington, D. C., field recreation representative of the federal security agency who will discuss briefly the purpose of Amateur Day.

Next will be a five-inning softball game between the General Excavator Co. and the Commercial Steel Co. teams. All softball games will go five innings except the boys' game, which will be a four-inning contest.

Mayor Russell C. Snare is scheduled to pitch the first ball to Major John F. Sears, acting commanding officer of the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

Jack Couchlin, program director of the Y. M. C. A., will next supervise ball-throwing and

TODAY'S STANDINGS IN QUEEN CONTEST

Margaret Gasparek, Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. Amateur Day queen candidate, took the lead in the contest at noon today with a total of 7,185 votes. Miss Jean Snyder of the Huber Manufacturing Co., slipped from first to second place. She has a total of 6,184 votes. Jayne Bailey, Holabird & Root candidate, is third with 5,563. Phyllis Hecker, Marion-Reserve Power Co. choice, is fourth with 3,672 and Marian Huddleston of the War Department is fifth with 1,378. Voting will end at 9 p. m. tonight. Organizations may file their final returns at a booth set up on the courthouse esplanade. Amateur Day programs and tickets will also be on sale there. Tickets still will be 25 cents tonight but if purchased tomorrow they will be 50 cents.

PRESIDENT READS OF JIMMIE'S EXPLOIT

Papers Give Him Only News of Son in Marines.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—President Roosevelt heard about his son James' part in the Makin island raid only when he read the newspapers this morning, whereupon he remarked to a secretary, "Did you see where Jimmy was in the show?"

Press Secretary Stephen Early told reporters of this, remarking that neither the President nor Mrs. Roosevelt had any more information on the whereabouts or activities of their sons than the fathers and mothers of other officers and men in the armed services.

"They saw it in the papers this morning for the first time" Early added.

"While the two were reading the headlines in the President's bedroom at breakfast, Mrs. Roosevelt entered the room and asked the Chief Executive whether he could tell her any more details of Major Roosevelt's participation in the raid than were in the morning papers.

The President, Early related, said he could not as he did not know any more than the papers carried from Hawaii.

FINAL CHURCH SESSIONS SET

Sunday Conference Meetings Open to Public; Delegates Are Chosen.

An ordination service Sunday morning, and the anniversary service of the Missionary society and stationing of ministers Sunday afternoon will bring to a close the 105th session of the Ohio Conference of the Evangelical church which opened Wednesday in Calvary Evangelical church. A highlight of the conference was the election yesterday of delegates to the General Evangelical conference in October, at which time action will be taken on the proposed merger of the Evangelical and United Brethren denominations.

The following ministerial delegates were chosen to represent the conference at the general conference to be held at Naperville, Ill., in October.

Rev. C. L. Allen, of Fremont, district superintendent of the western district, Rev. D. L. Allen of Canton, district superintendent of the Eastern district, Rev. L. E. Nietz of Columbus, district superintendent of the Southern district, Rev. F. A. Firestone of Toledo, pastor of Zion Evangelical church; Rev. H. E. Williamson of Canton, pastor of Grace Evangelical church; Rev. LeRoy Deminger of Cleveland; Dr. H. R. Heininger of Naperville, Ill.

PLAN FOR ALLOCATING WORKERS' TIRES SET

Marion Committee To Fix Order of Issuance.

State and local OPA officials conferred here yesterday with representatives of Marion manufacturing concerns with regard to future allocations of tires to vital industrial workers.

Under the plan outlined by OPA officials every firm with 100 or more employes will set up a special committee to determine the order in which workers' requests for tires will be honored.

The conference was held at Hotel Harding with Charles Evans, state OPA representative, of Cleveland, C. C. Holliday, executive secretary of the Marion county rationing board, Cloyce Taylor, chairman of the county tire panel, and factory representatives in attendance.

POLITICAL OBSERVERS WATCH N. Y., TEXAS

Important Developments Are Awaited in Two States.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—With candidates chosen for 18 of the 35 senate and 282 of the 435 house seats to be filled in the November elections, political observers eyed with interest today the Texas Democratic senatorial primary run-off and the New York American Labor party convention.

After next week's Republican state convention in New York and primaries in California, Mississippi and South Carolina, the first half of September will close the pre-election campaigns.

To date, 12 house members—8 Democrats and 4 Republicans—have missed renomination. Three other house Democrats lost out in races for senatorial nominations. Only one incumbent senator—William J. Bulow, a South Dakota Democrat—has been defeated in nomination races thus far.

Today's Texas run-off decides the 19th senatorial contest with Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, who failed to get a majority in the July 25 primary, vying with the runner-up James V. Allred.

Allred called O'Daniel an isolationist in the campaign. The latter retorted that no man who had a son in the army—as he has—was an isolationist. He also contended the war was not an issue.

Four Americans, First To Fight On French Soil, Found Battle Fun

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 22 — Four American Rangers who believe they may have been the first United States soldiers to fight on French soil in this war when they scrambled ashore at Dieppe with British commandos agreed today they're ready to tackle almost anything after their experiences in that foray.

The quartet—Corporal William R. Brady of Grand Forks, N. D.; Staff Sergeant Kenneth Semeon of Russell, Minn.; Corporal Franklin M. Koons of Iowa, and Sergeant Alex J. Szima of Dayton—sprayed the Germans they encountered with new Garand rifle slugs and, as one said, "we were picking 'em off like ducks all day long."

"We found we were [illegible] fun," they said.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] sion, but we made it," said Corporal Brady. The first pill box was empty when they arrived.

"We thought we'd go get the other one," Brady related.

They were heading for the second pillbox under fire from German snipers when two British Spitfires flew low and put it out of action with machinegun bullets.

With their British commando unit, the Americans moved on to a crossroads and found a ten-man German patrol. In the shooting that followed five Germans were put out of action, they said. The others, firmly disarmed, "got the hell out of there."

All four of the Americans praised the British for their courage and fighting ability and said the Canadians were "full of a fine bunch."

"The British were so calm about it that it seemed like a maneuver," one said.

LAKE BOATS TO MOVE OIL PRODUCTS EAST

Emergency Plan Worked Out Until Lines Are Built.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—The petroleum coordinator's office announced today it had approved a plan for emergency movement of 15,000 barrels of essential oil products to the east through use of Great Lakes tankers and barges between Toledo and Cleveland, O.

The plan calls for temporary use of these facilities to accomplish the earliest utilization of pipelines now being rearranged, expanded and extended in Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, the announcement said.

It is to remain in effect pending completion of a new 100-mile pipeline across Ohio from Fostoria to Akron, which will eliminate need for lake movement to Cleveland.

Ohio Evangelical Reports Outline Church's Role in Time of Emergency

Annual Reports Given at State Meeting in Marion Cite Additional Responsibility During War.

The part the church must play in the world carnage of today was emphasized in the annual report of the district superintendents presented yesterday at the annual session of the Ohio Evangelical conference, at Calvary Evangelical church. Under the caption, "Our Church and the Present World Situation," the report stressed the opportunity afforded the church to serve in the present conflict and aid in the preservation of home, church and country. The report follows:

OUR CHURCH AND THE PRESENT WORLD SITUATION

"Many questions arise in the minds of Christians as to what their attitude toward the war with its suffering, destruction, carnage and death should be. The gospel of Christ is one of peace and goodwill. This doctrine is deeply imbedded in the life of our Church. It is clear that nations of the world have not followed the counsel of God, and as a result have lost their way. Greed, selfishness, hatred and fear have usurped the place of love, respect and good will among the nations. Again they have sought to solve the problem of their differences by force of arms instead of counsel and arbitration. It is almost a maxim that war does not settle international differences. We are a peace-loving people, and yet, but not by choice, we find ourselves involved in the most deadly and destructive conflict ever visited upon the face of the earth. The best we can do, so it seems to us, as a nation engaged in the world catastrophe, is to play our part with such decency and honor as befits our high position in the world of nations as they exist today.

"The Church must not lag behind in its support of our country in its time of peril. She must reject all attempts to lower her standards of culture, hate and animosity within her, or curtail her influence. The Church must be a spiritual monitor to those in high places in our government as well as in the rank and file of her constituency. The present conflict opens to the Church a great opportunity to serve. For the Church to pass through this great experience and just remain her 'Status Quo' would be a tragic mistake which the Church might not survive. It is the hour for our pastors, laymen, Church officials and leaders to become fully awake to the task and make the power and good will of the Church be felt everywhere. The free institutions of our country are in danger of being destroyed. Upon the young men who have answered the call of the government, and have entered the armed forces of our country to defend the institutions which are dear to our heart, the home, the Church, and the schools, we look with pride. We pledge our faith and prayers to the end that they may be kept in our heavenly Father's care and be returned to our homes and our Churches in safety. If they shall be called upon to pay the supreme price in their effort to defend and uphold all the interests so precious to us, we pray that God, whom we have led them to know and to love, will guard their souls; and that their loved ones may find comfort in the consolations of the Christian faith.

"We appreciate the fact that our Evangelical people generally have given themselves to all forms of remedial and ameliorative service, and where possible assisted in very substantial ways in proof of our loyalty to the country we love. However, we must not be led to sacrifice any vital moral or doctrinal positions. By God's help we should not allow ourselves to slip into suicidal animosities which would unfit us to participate in the adjudication of differences which shall stand out with their own merits when this catastrophic world disturbance shall have become history.

OUR LINE OF SPIRITUAL DEFENSE

"We summon our people to face with courage the sacrifices which we are required to make in the homeland, and especially to seek the ministrations of the Church as their source of comfort and strength. We have a profound respect for that small number of persons who conscientiously follow what, to them, is the only right course to take in view of the teachings of Christ, the New Testament, and the Christian Church, and who are willing to undergo added hardships, and find some other way of serving their country than by taking up arms against their brother man. If the Church is to be strong in this hour she must, more than ever, rely upon human loyalty as well as Divine help. We, therefore, urge our Ohio Conference Churches, each member and each minister, to give full measure of devotion to the Church's responsibility to serve in this turbulent and dangerous situation. We call for a complete spiritual enlistment, not alone for the 'duration' but with all of life now and beyond the close of this colossal struggle. Here too, Blood, sweat and tears are ahead! But we hold the profound conviction that the results of our labors and sacrifices will be eminently and eternally worthwhile. In all the noise and confusion incident to war, we must not lose sight of the fact that Missions is the great task of the Church. The great Commission has not been abrogated and sin in every form is the storm center of our attack. We call our fellow Christians to join us at the throne of grace in fervent common prayer for spiritual strength and guidance, a great passion for the salvation of men and the success of the kingdom, and a willingness to sacrifice that will be commensurate for the tremendous needs of this crucial hour in world history and in the development of the Kingdom of our God."

Tribute to Ministers.

The report paid tribute to ministers of the conference whose deaths occurred during the last year, and reviewed the pastoral and congregational activities which included a mid-conference ministers' retreat held at Mansfield in April. Well-planned, enthusiastic, prayerful and personal house to house evangelistic visitation was suggested as a complement to public evangelistic efforts.

Attention was called to the work of the church in ministering to community needs and in the development in Christian living, socially and spiritually. "Professionalism in religion as is sometimes promoted by radio and other high pressure methods by the way of long distance transcription and use of the mails can never meet to the full the daily and personal soul needs," the reports declared.

"The first and last command of Christ to His disciples to be soul winners was pointed out as the supreme imperative to the Christian in the report's section titled "Winning Folks to Christ and the Church." The report urged the emphasizing of young people's work in the church and pointed to the attendance of hundreds of young people at the summer assembly as a "most inspiring sight and time." It was suggested that the work be carried into the local churches and accomplished through the Evangelical league, offering a four-fold program of worship, instruction, fellowship and service.

The year just closed was cited as the best the conference has known for many years in the report of the financial accomplishments and debt reductions, and the trustees of the churches were commended for the "excellent care they have given the church properties." The gift of an organ to the Oakland church, Marion, from a friend, recently, was cited in the report. The report suggested that it might be well for the conference board to set up some rules as a basis of approach in the discussion of church building and repairs.

Wauseon Minister Recommended For Call to Central Christian Church

Rev. Eldred W. Johnston To Preach Trial Sermon Sunday; Up for Vote of Congregation.

Rev. Eldred W. Johnston of the Wauseon Church of Christ will be the guest minister at Central Christian church at the unified service tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. The pulpit supply committee has called Rev. Johnston to the church and a vote of the congregation after the service will determine his acceptance as pastor to take the place of Rev. H. L. Bell who has accepted a call to the Columbia Heights Christian church, Washington, D. C.

Rev. Johnston attended Bethany college and Butler university where he received the B. S. L. degree and Oberlin School of Theology where he received the B. D. degree. He has been in the active ministry 10 years and has been prominent in young people's work, having been on the faculty at Lakeside conferences for several years.

He has been recommended to Central church by prominent men of the denomination. He has been at Wauseon four years where he served a congregation of 450, and before that he was at a Defiance church for five and one-half years. Upon acceptance by the congregation here he will bring his wife and five-year-old daughter to live in Marion.

Cecil McKee will have full charge of services until he returns to Transylvania college at Lexington, Ky.

The church pulpit supply committee has as chairman Ollie Schneider, with a membership of 18. Other members are Millard Hunt, Louis Seckel, Cutler McGrew, Harold Patrick, Francis Fairchild, Paul Frye, Herman Heisler, Elmer Weimer, Mrs. Delmer Dulin, Miss Luella Scholl, Mrs. Frank Fairchild, Mrs. Lois Fairchild, Kenneth McKee, Mrs. Mildred Baughn Fouts, Miss Inez McClure and Miss Ona Sowland.

COMFORTING THOUGHTS....

John Uncapher
Funeral Director

In years hence, you will be happy that you called upon an understanding funeral director in that darkest hour of sadness.

With a clear mind and conscience you can be comforted by the thought that the best was done for your loved one, and your tribute was a perfect one.

SPECIAL MEETING OF MINISTERS CALLED

War-Work Area Problems To Be Discussed.

A special meeting of the ministers of Marion and Marion county will be held Monday at 7 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. building to meet with Rev. James M. Davis, field executive on defense industrial communities for the Congregational-Christian church in America.

Purpose of the gathering is to discuss suggestions regarding ways and means whereby local churches may more fully make use of the increasing opportunities afforded them because of the new and increasing defense populations in city and county. A number of laymen of the city have been invited to participate. Officers of the Marion County Council of Church Women as well as all ministers are urged to be present by county ministerial association officials who will be host to the meeting.

Rev. Davis comes to Marion, as to other industrial defense centers in the state and nation where he has organized religious programs through the cooperation of the Ohio Council of Churches. He will be accompanied here by Dr. W. H. Thompson of the Council office in Columbus. Rev. E. M. Hertzer of the First Church of the Brethren is president of the Marion County Ministerial association.

Prayer

A Sermonette

By REV. ALBERT M. HOOD.
Pastor of Second Pilgrim Holiness Church.

* * *

Text, Luke 18.1 And He spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray and not faint.

* * *

IN speaking of prayer we call your attention to the above text, when Christ in all of His love spoke the same to His children.

Christ Himself had experienced and knew deeply, what prayer was and could be to those who sought its relief, so out of this experience and knowing man's deep and varied need, spoke the words of the text, that "Men ought always to pray."

That message was not only for the hearts of His disciples there, but was to reach down across the years to the present time. Should we not heed its message and be much in prayer, more so as we realize the need as it is in the world at present?

In dealing with this subject, we would consider it in some different lights.

First, prayer is the language of worship for us as men. We need but look into the Psalms, to hear the worship of the Psalmist as he waits before God in prayer. Many times he is in true worship as he prays and how easy it is for us and how often we look to the psalms for that time of true worship.

Then in our own day, what can bring us to a more worshipful attitude than to kneel before God in prayer. Even as we enter the house of God, it is good to bow our hearts before God, that we might reach that worshipful attitude. We become more and more aware that prayer is our language of worship as men. Let us avail ourselves of this means of worship.

Again it shows our dependence upon God as creatures of His creation. Who of us could or can sever ourself from God and His world and live to ourself? No, it is not possible, but the way out in all times of needs to show our dependence upon God as we wait before Him in faithful believing prayer. There to give voice to our helplessness, and weakness, and plead for His divine undergirding.

Next prayer tends to bring us into submission as a subject. Hear the prayer of the Saviour, as He plays in Gethsemane, "Not my will but thine be done." How often we become resolved and determined, until, coming before God in prayer, He shows us His plan, and we in unworthiness submit humbly, as an obedient subject. Oh, that we would but look to God in prayer, seek His ... and submit to it.

Then it is a means of confe... as a sinner. Again we need ... look at the Psalmist as he pr... his heart out in humble pray... and puts before God the actu... of his condition.

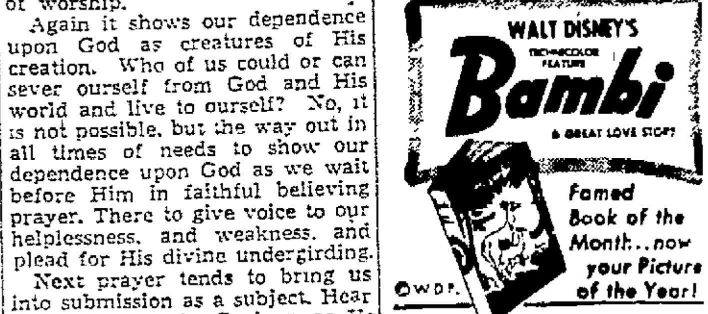

We note Christ's illustratio... true prayer in the example of ... publican, who prayed, "God ... merciful to me a sinner."

What a blessed privilege ... kneel before God, there in de... humility to confess the wrong... our life, then have God ... Christ's sake to forgive and ... away every stain.

Molzahn, Kunze Found Guilty in Espionage Trial

Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze

By The Associated Press

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 22—Stocky, Rev. Kurt E. B. Molzahn today faced a prison sentence, possibly 20 years, after being convicted of a charge of conspiracy to violate the espionage act by attempting to deliver military secrets of the United States, his adopted home, to axis powers.

The 47-year-old pastor of an ancient German Lutheran church in Philadelphia's Franklin square showed no signs of emotion late yesterday as a federal jury found him guilty.

Although Judge J. Joseph Smith, granting a defense plea, continued the pastor's case until Tuesday, he immediately sentenced three of the clergyman's co-conspirators including Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, former "fuehrer" of the German-American bund.

Kunze, a self-described German citizen, although born in Camden, N. J., was sentenced to 15 years. The others, Dr. Wolfgang Ebell, 43, El Paso, Tex., physician, was given seven years, and Dr. Otto Willumeit, 37, Chicago ex-bund leader, was ordered to serve five years.

The fifth conspirator, Anastase A. Vonsiatsky of Thompson, Conn., Russian Fascist leader, had drawn a five year term.

Only the pastor stood trial. The others pleaded guilty.

According to official figures the United States took 9,504,511 of the 11,054,759 60-kilogram bags of coffee exported by Brazil last year.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

American sailors and coast guardsmen must be hardened to face any and all weather. In ice, sleet, snow and rain they send their ships sloshing through the heavy seas. They need rain coats to help them weather the storms. A rain coat for our sailors costs $5.

You'll feel better if you know that by your investment in War Bonds and Stamps you are helping to give this protection for men who go to the sea in ships. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday, for our Country must have the money to provide the necessary tools to win this war. And remember, for every $3 you invest you get $4 back at maturity.

Shipbuilders for War

Navy Production Wizard a Landlubber

This is one of a series of articles about the men in charge of America's great wartime shipbuilding program.

By SAM JACKSON
Wide World Features Writer

OAKLAND, Calif.—Something of a legend is growing up about a portly, bald, 60-year-old ex-photographer of this city named Henry J. Kaiser.

This gentleman is possibly the individual industrial titan of the country's war production. At least he is one of the most dynamic and to date one of the most successful.

He's getting ready to top his own sensational ship construction performance by turning out a fleet of 70-ton cargo planes. The War Production Board authorized him to build 100 of the flying freight cars, with 400 more to come later if the experiment is successful.

Kaiser is turning out Liberty ships in one-third of the minimum 120-day goal set by the Maritime Commission. He says soon he will have them rolling off the ways in less than 30 days.

Is A 'Landlubber'

Kaiser's career as shipbuilder has not been a long one. In fact, before Hitler invaded Poland he had never laid a keel, and even today he speaks of the "front end" of a ship.

Yet this "landlubber" has been assigned one-third of the U. S. ship-building program. It's not hard to guess why. Kaiser cut the time between keel-laying and delivery from 194 days on his first ship to 46 days on one delivered last June.

HENRY J. KAISER
"...he moves mountains..."

In order to produce as many ships as possible, Kaiser uses every inch of available space in his six yards. His ways are only final assembly points. Ships are cut up, built in sections in fabrication ships, in open lots and on big, steel-floored assembly platforms. The limit to the size of the erection sections is the capacity of the cranes to lift them into space.

Despite his achievements in this field, however, he's not primarily a shipbuilder. Whether or not his Nevada-to-California magnesium circuit is giving us the needed quantities of this airplane-metal cannot be divulged — but he's no metallurgist.

Through at least 30 corporations and through contracts with figures that make you dizzy, Kaiser is working on at least 30 different fronts in the war effort. Yet, as at the time he was building Boulder dam, Grand Coulee, the later Pearl Harbor defenses, and so on, he has managed to keep well in the background. These exploits did not even get him into "Who's Who."

From East to Northwest

Kaiser was born in 1882 in Canajoharie, N. Y., but his career is essentially one of the Pacific northwest.

He worked as a photographer's assistant from early youth and followed this work until, after his marriage, he thought he saw better opportunities in the sand-and-gravel business.

Since then moving mountains has been Kaiser's principal business. His giant conveyor belt which runs gravel to the big Shasta dam in California 24 hours a day over hill and dale has no parallel in engineering. At Permanente, California, he slides limestone down a hill under a process where the mere process of braking it generates the electricity to run the plant. He has built many millions of dollars worth of roads for Cuba, and installed the massive concrete piers that support the world's most ponderous bridge, that across San Francisco bay.

The project which has brought him to some degree into the national limelight is the magnesium plant which he has put up near San Jose, California, with $9,250,000 borrowed from Jesse Jones. This is not important money to Kaiser—he has a single contract with the Maritime Commission for $160,000,000—but it represents a quick way to produce this valuable metal for airplane construction.

He has pinned his faith on the inventor of the process, an Austrian refugee named Dr. J. Fritz Hansgrig, who, it has been explained in court proceedings, keeps the secret of the process "entirely in his head."

Business circles here have heard some strange tales of Kaiser's stupendous long distance bills, of his 20-hour days with only four hours allotted to sleep. His offices are a floor of the Latham Square building in Oakland, and his home is the original one he bought on coming here in 1921.

He has two sons, Edgar and Henry Jr., and he has entrusted them with gambles in his business in which a million may be made or lost on an executive decision.

How rich Kaiser may be is a matter of speculation.

He has a string of corporations rivalling anything set up in the 20's. He has obtained immense government loans and immense bank loans, and his contracts are on a scale the average man cannot figure out. For instance, the British admiralty recently gave his one for $06,000,000. How much is profit and how much loss only he and his close associates know.

Kaiser's address is usually en route from Oakland to Washington to New York. If you have some real business to discuss, you can probably call him up long distance and talk several hundred dollars' worth with no questions asked.

By LETA ZOE ADAMS

CHAPTER TEN
As Good As Dead

SANDY turned to the headman. "What do you know of this land, my friend, for since you live so near surely you must sometimes hunt there."

"We never step upon that land, senor," the Indian said, becoming more excited. "The spirits who live there would punish us. Only once one of our bravest young men ventured into that land to cut a tree he fancied. He never returned."

"That is most sad," Sandy said uncomfortably. "Nevertheless it is our intention to enter this land. Could we stay for the night in your village?"

"You are welcome to stay as long as you wish, senor," said the headman. But he spoke with resignation, and Sandy knew that, in his mind, the three white people were as good as dead.

They dined on wild turkey cooked in a native hot sauce and served with tortillas. It was a tasty and nourishing meal. Helen asked Gil to get the recipe from the Indian women since she could not understand the language.

Over the dying embers of the fire that night Sandy endeavored to learn what the Indians might know about the country ahead.

"I have heard," Sandy said, "that there is a great city somewhere in the mountains to the south. You have heard of this city?"

The headman nodded. "Si, senor, we have heard. It is the City of the Spirits of which you speak."

"Perhaps the spirits of your ancestors, my friend," Sandy said gently.

The Indian's eyes gleamed in the firelight. "It is said that, many years ago, our ancestors came from a great distance to this land. They brought with them many wondrous things—knowledge of the sun and stars, powerful Gods, skilled workers in stone. You ask where they have gone an I cannot tell you. But this I do know, they vanished and their spirits live in that land across the river."

Although Sandy knew it was little short of useless to coax any of the villagers to accompany the expedition, yet he was obliged to try. When they refused he asked if it was the last village, or if he would encounter others. They told him it was the last village.

From there on, then, his expedition would be entirely on its own in primitive country. Somehow, in spite of his determination and reckless disregard of the legendary dangers, he was glad that Tyra Fleming was ahead.

Tyra Again

They took off the next morning shortly after dawn in order to make some mileage before the heat of the day settled upon the bush. The river was so narrow now that they found the going extremely difficult. The current became more swift, too, for they were getting into the mountains. Time after time they had to pole for long distances. Once Helen called out—"Do you notice that there aren't any birds here? I wonder why."

Sandy rested on his pole long enough to glance at the jungle wall. It seemed to him that the vegetation was heavier and that the looping orchids were more vivid. Yes, the country looked wilder. And, as Helen remarked, it was strangely silent as if all life had suddenly been hushed.

Another hour of sweating exertion passed. The river was scarcely navigable now. They could not travel much farther on it. Suppose Tyra had hidden her canoes and started overland from some point behind him. She would be safe in assuming that it would take several days to backtrack and find her canoes, if indeed he was able to find them at all. And unless the trail she used was blazed it would be just as difficult to locate it for the lianas soon covered all machete marks. Altogether it would be simpler to travel south by compass and hope for the best.

And just as this gloomy possibility was beginning to look like a probability, Sandy saw Tyra.

He came around a bend of the river and there she stood on an outjutting point. She was dressed in shorts and a halter. On her head was a bright orange scarf and at her waist swung a cartridge belt and a revolver. She stood with her arms folded across her breast like a lady pirate waiting for her henchmen to return from a raid.

At the sight of her Sandy felt a singular thumping in his temples. He lifted his arm to hail her.

"Hallo!"

She did not return the greeting, but stood her ground like an image carved in stone.

"Well, the devil!" Sandy muttered, letting his arm drop again.

But his temples still throbbed in that extraordinary way. His whole body sang like a high tension wire.

New Warning

Sandy paddled past Tyra and turned into the bank where he saw her canoes beached.

The two Indians were working over the gear in the dug-outs. They looked up but did not speak when Sandy approached.

The place where he found himself was another park-like clearing. Quickly he made his way toward Tyra. She faced him and he saw a smoldering anger in her eyes.

"I was expecting you," she stated.

Sandy tried to look innocent. This was a delicate moment, he realized. Somehow he must win this girl's good-will.

"I'm sorry we had to tag you," he began, and found that his tongue was thick and awkward instead of glib. "But there was no other course. You see, Miss Fleming, I gathered that you were bound not to permit us to accompany you openly, but that if we went without your knowledge or consent you would be exonerated from all blame in the matter. I hope I was right. I really wouldn't want to cause you any trouble."

"It's kind of you to say that—now," she observed caustically.

Sandy took a deeper breath. "As a matter of fact, Miss Fleming, I fail to see any reason why we shouldn't join forces since we are both headed for the same country and are both engaged in scientific work."

Her eyes, clear and brown-flecked as trout pools, went over Sandy. "I'm warning you again. You'd better turn back now."

Sandy's lips twitched into an ironic smile. "Thanks, but I happen to believe that I can travel wherever you do. So if it's my welfare you're thinking of, do me the favor to forget it, will you?"

She did not answer, but instead brushed by him and walked with free-swinging steps to her canoes.

Gil was just turning into the bank, and Sandy went to help him.

"What's the lay of the land?" Gil wanted to know.

"I don't know yet where we stand," Sandy said.

Helen climbed over the gunwale. "Perhaps she objects to our presence."

"Or she might be man-shy," Gil suggested.

Sandy and Gil busied themselves with the canoes. Although Tyra had not said so, they knew this was the end of river travel. Now this load must be divided with the greatest care.

Fire Prevention Urgently Needed

Fire losses total millions of dollars annually. And much of this loss can be attributed directly to carelessness and negligence.

Home owners should take every precaution to protect their properties against fire. Faulty wiring, electrical outlets, and appliances should be attended to without delay. Attics, storerooms, and cellars should be cleaned regularly. Care should be exercised in the use of inflammable cleaning fluids. Oily rags should be immediately disposed of. Heating units should be checked to keep them in safe operation. These are just a few of the reasons responsible for many home fires.

Canada is planning to utilize an annual excess of 100 million cubic feet of sawdust as fuel for heating homes.

What You CAN BUILD

By PATRICIA MONTCLAIR

If YOU'VE been feeling that you'll have to postpone all plans for construction or remodelling your home until after the war perhaps like many another American today, you haven't got a really clear idea of how much Uncle Sam will actually permit you to do. Maybe it's perfectly possible for you to go ahead with the particular piece of work you've had in mind.

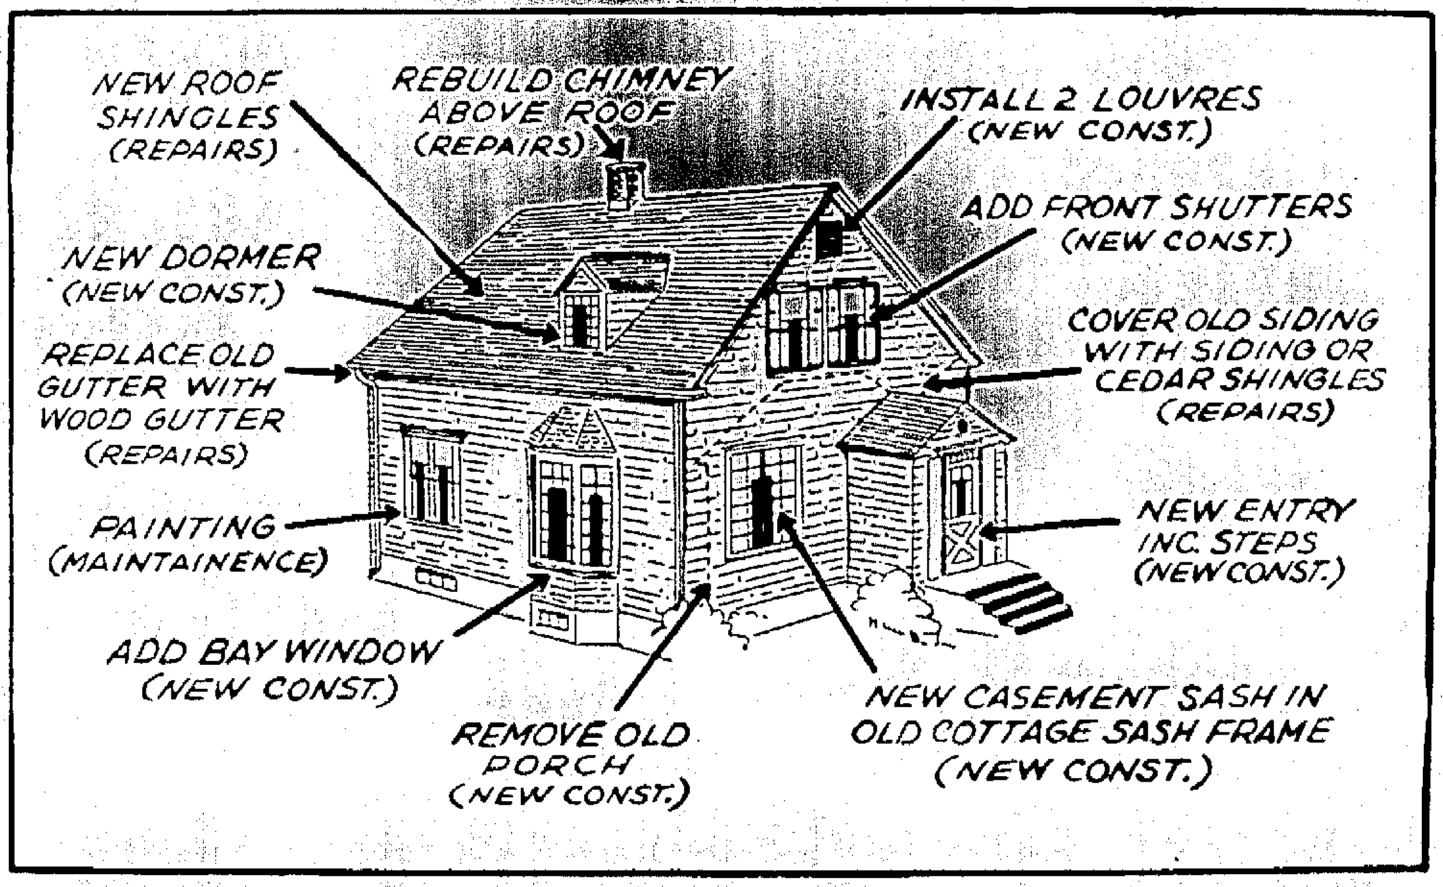

For example, if you need a garage to store that car you won't be using so much for awhile, you may build one if it doesn't cost more than $500. If you live on a farm, and need additional service buildings to carry on your farm work efficiently, such construction may run up as high as $1,000. Remodelling on any buildings you now own may be done on this same basis.

Moreover, if any structure on your grounds is in bad condition in any respect, you are free to go as far as you can afford in necessary repair work. You may also replace any building that may be damaged or destroyed by circumstnces beyond your control, such as storms, enemy air raids, or, as the saying goes, "an act of God." In addition, any construction begun before April 9, 1942, may be completed. All of these projects are permissible without priorities.

Under priorities, construction is limited in general to such as may provide increased housing facilities for defense workers. Farm buildings, however, may be erected beyond the non-priorities limit if they can be proved necessary to the conduct of the farming operations.

If your living room is too dark and you need more sun and air, Uncle Sam will gladly permit you to add a beautiful new bay window.

A wide variety of permissible remodeling jobs on house exteriors, outlined above, includes new roofing, shutters, entrances, dormer, casement windows, siding repairs, gutters and rebuilding chimney.

OHIO SHEEP CROP GAINS IN VALUE

Increase of Million Dollars Reported Over 1941.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—Ohio sheep raisers found their crop worth about a million dollars more this year than in 1941, the cooperative crop reporting service estimated today.

Increased production coupled with higher prices for both wool and mutton lined farmer's pockets more heavily than usual as wartime requirements for cloth and meat provided a ready market for the Ohio crop.

Glenn S. Ray of the bureau of agricultural economics estimated that 16,575,000 pounds of wool were taken from 1,997,000 Ohio sheep, making the yield worth $7,127,250 at the current price of 43 cents a pound.

Last year's shearing was 15,706,000 from 1,939,000 sheep, worth $6,282,400 at the July, 1941 price of 40 cents a pound. Two years ago wool brought only 30 cents.

The lamb crop last spring was estimated at 3 per cent more than in 1941 with the July 15 price $12.60 a hundred pounds compared with $9.90 a year ago and $8.30 in 1940. Ray said marketing of lambs was heavy this spring, adding to farm cash income.

The average wool production per sheep this year was 8.3 pounds against 8.1 pounds last year.

689 Marion County Residents Take First Aid Courses in Nine Months

Red Cross Records Show 3,000,000 Have Obtained Certificates Since Pearl Harbor.

In keeping with a national trend, Marion county's interest in first aid has grown considerably since Dec. 7, 1941.

In the county 689 persons have completed the Red Cross first aid course since that time. More than 3,000,000 persons have successfully completed the course in the United States, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross. This number was as great as those certified in the preceding 31 years, and brought the total number of persons to whom first aid certificates have been issued to 6,650,228, more than half of which were issued during the 1941-42 fiscal year.

In Marion county, 74 persons have qualified as first aid instructors since Pearl Harbor, and 182 air raid wardens have been trained, while in the country as a whole the number of first aid instructors increased from 30,871 to 155,541 during the year.

Although interest in first aid training was on the increase before the United States entered the war, the demand for the courses reached unprecedented proportions after Dec. 7. The first and heaviest demand came from the Pacific coast area, immediately after the outbreak of the war. The Atlantic seaboard and the gulf states soon joined the parade, with the more protected midwest following.

In industry first aid has been an important factor in decreasing the number of man-hours lost in war work through accidents.

A. F. of L. Lodge Votes Canteen Contribution

A contribution of $10, double the monthly contribution being made to the canteen for service men at the Union station, was voted at a meeting of Roosevelt Lodge No. 1281, I.A.M., A.F.L. affiliate, Thursday night. The lodge voted unanimously to sponsor the campaign of Miss Jean Snyder of the Huber Mfg. Co., in the amateur beauty contest and 1,000 votes were recorded for her.

Reports were given from the Osgood Co., General Excavator, Marion Metal Products Co., Defiance Pressed Steel, Expansion Bolt Co., Wilson Bohannan Co., Huber Mfg. Co. of Marion and the Hanley Engineering Servcie Co. of Prospect.

A social hour was in charge of a committee composed of Gale Hollis, Charles O'Dowd, William Armbruster, Fred Harper and E. J. Hollandshead.

REMOVING PAINT

A small vegetable brush has been found to give very successful results when used with paint remover to remove the old finish from furniture. Such a brush will remove paint from cracks, mouldings, and carved places without injury to the surface.

WAR INFLUENCE

One of the most important influences of the war on home construction trends is likely to be a new and greater appreciation of the value of insulation, according to building experts.

Amortizing Mortgage Plan Used To Finance New Homes and Old Loans

Wartime conditions have added greatly to the desirability of placing all home mortgages in the United States on an amortizing basis, thereby making debt-free home ownership possible for millions of American families, Federal Housing Commissioner Abner H. Ferguson declared.

By using a form of home financing which provides for regular payments to reduce the outstanding loans on their homes, American home-owners will be contributing valuable support to President Roosevelt's program to prevent a sharp rise in the cost of living during the war period, Mr. Ferguson pointed out. One of the principal points of that program is to encourage the paying off of debts and mortgages as a means of directing increased purchasing power into channels that will help forestall any further rise in prices.

In addition to helping stabilize economic conditions during wartime, a more widespread use of amortizing mortgages will strenthen the position of home-owners in the peacetime years to come, the commissioner asserted.

Furthermore, most amortizing mortgage plans provide a convenient means for accommulating funds needed to pay property taxes and hazard insurance, thereby affording protection against default on these important items in the homeowner's budget, he pointed out.

During recent years, substantial progress has been made in placing an increasing proportion of American home-mortgage debt on a modern, amortized basis, Mr. Ferguson said.

A large majority of the hundreds of thousands of new homes purchased since 1934 have been financed by amortizing, long-term loans; and many owners of older properties have also refinanced their mortgages along these lines.

A substantial number of older residential properties, however, still remain on an outmoded mortgage basis, involving first, second, and third mortgages with short-term maturities, which necessitate frequent renewals and have no satisfactory arrangements for periodic reduction in the amounts owed, the Commissioner stated. Interest charges on such loans also are frequently much higher than those prevailing on amortizing mortgages, he said.

"Private lending institutions have ample facilities for replacing such loans with a single, amortizing mortgage which will eventually retire the home indebtedness through frequent, convenient repayments," he said. "Furthermore, governmental fiscal authorities are actively favoring widescale use of the amortizing principle for all private indebtedness in order to assist the president's anti-inflation program."

Under the FHA plan, existing homes which meet FHA standards as to location and structural soundness are eligible for FHA-insured mortgages up to 80 per cent of the FHA valuation of the property, with maximum terms of as long as 20 years. If essential repairs are necessary to restore the property to sound condition, amount spent for such purposes may also be financed by the mortgage.

Cement Paint Halts Moisture Absorption

Although decoration is generally the motivating reason for painting a house, the prevention of moisture absorption by porous surfaces such as brick, stucco and other cement mix materials is equally important. Frequent saturation is conducive to surface dusting and unsightly stains.

Upon freezing the moisture expansion may result in serious crumbling. Correctly formulated paint will seal the surface and thus eliminate the casue for disintegration and staining.

You Were at Dieppe

YOU landed at Dieppe and played your part in that thrilling prelude to victory if you are one of the millions of Americans who have bought War Bonds and Stamps or if you have played your part in the industries turning out the implements of war.

Modern war is highly developed teamwork. Some carry the fighting into the trenches and to the arenas or action on land and sea and in the air but for every fighting man a score of others back him up with their labor and their investment in the tools he uses.

Every American who has bought a war bond, every school child who puts his dimes into stamps, had a part in the raid at Dieppe. He was there with the commandos and the rangers and he has a right to feel his just share of pride in whatever they accomplished.

The bond and stamp owner is with the marines in the Solomons, he flies with the bombers which blast at the enemy in China, he is in the tanks in Egypt, he is putting punch into the defense along the Don. Without the dimes and the dollars of those who remain at home American men and material could not fight around the world.

Watch the war news and take your share of pride in it. Every time an American bomb drops on an enemy position, you have a right to feel that you helped send it there and keep on buying bonds and stamps until you can honestly feel that your share in this war is giving your last full measure of backing to the men who face the bullets and the bombs and give a little more than they are required to take.

Every Man His Own Expert

ONE of these days the President's friend and adviser, Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, is going to hand over that anxiously awaited report on how to stop inflation. A lot depends on what Judge Rosenman has been able to find out and on what Mr. Roosevelt thereafter decides to do about it.

In an entirely unofficial manner in the meantime, the American layman, who is his own expert on inflation, has reached a few conclusions. These are wholly unofficial and, therefore, unreliable. For instance: that the way to stop inflation is to keep the other fellow from doing anything to encourage it. That is obviously unreliable. It is contrary to government policy, also.

Thus, a landlord must not raise rent at the expense of a wage earner, according to a wage earner, because that would be inflation. But still according to the wage earner it is all right for wage earners to get a higher rate of wages, because that enables them to live more comfortably. It also raises hob with the landlord, but landlords are not organized.

Inflation, as is well known, is something caused by the other fellow. But he cannot be forbidden to carry on in this manner unless he is totally without voting power. Wage earners, farmers and so on, with voting power, cannot be prevented from living more comfortably, therefore, though they can be encouraged not to try to live too comfortably all at once. This is called controlled inflation, which is what we are having now and is the reason Judge Rosenman has been asked to look into the matter. It is beginning to appear as though controlled inflation might be something like holding a bear by the tail.

Judgment Reserved

IN FOOTBALL, which will soon be with us, substitution of the squad's best place kicker for the play after touchdown usually means a place kick. In baseball, which is with us now, substitution of a heavy hitter for a weak hitting pitcher in the closing innings means that the strategy is to hit one on the nose. But in war, when a substitution is made, judgment must be reserved.

The British have substituted Gen. Sir Harold R. L. C. Alexander for Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck in command of their forces in the middle east. This is said to mean that there will be an offensive because that is what Gen. Alexander customarily prefers. Unfortunately, the interpretation fails to be convincing. It takes more than desire to conduct an offensive.

There has been no British general substituted for another since the war began who was not going to conduct a brilliant offensive almost at once. The interpretation has been as wishful as the conclusion that the substitute kicker is going to make the point after touchdown and the pinch hitter is going to get a clean single and break up the ball game. It doesn't always turn out that way, unfortunately. British generals who conduct brilliant offensives will be believed in when they appear, which cannot be too soon.

News Behind the News

Nelson Seen Ready To Eliminate Sore Points in Jumbled War Production Board Setup.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—It may have sounded a little strange when Production Director Donald Nelson returned from his vacation, announcing he was going to get tough about inefficiencies in his organization — and then singled out for firing first an employe who had told the newspapers about the deficiencies in steel.

To an outsider it may have seemed remarkable that Mr. Nelson started improving his organization by canning an employe who told the public one thing wrong with it. But that was not exactly the situation.

The overall truth is the war production board has been loaded with a motley assortment of some legitimate businessmen, some business hangers-on, or what might be called "marginal businessmen" (those unsuccessful men from commercial life who have made a career out of government service for the last few years), and a formidable array of New Deal social reformers, as well as expert, clear-headed, capable economists and officers from other government departments.

The variety of interests represented by these conflicting groups has inspired constant internal turmoil.

Publicity Practice

One of the favorite tricks of these marginal businessmen, or reformers, is to concoct a personal report setting forth his own views as to what is wrong, and then to leak same to the newspapers as a conclusion of the war production board, or at least a matter under study there.

This had to be stopped first, and Mr. Nelson's initial choice of a victim was apparently a constructive effort to break up that practice, whether or not it was properly applied in that case.

Next step will be to cleanse the house of the marginal businessmen and reformers, and put the selection of personnel there on a non-political efficiency-rating basis.

Some of them may be taken into the army and navy. WPB rolls contain an exceptionally large number of single men without dependents, and married men with rich or working wives, and they are in the age bracket of the lower thirties which makes them suitable for practical military effort.

March 12 Memo

Mr. Nelson is being criticized by the New Deal element, in and out of his organization, for not straightening out his relations with the army and navy with a clear-cut agreement as to authority.

Actually he entered such an agreement in writing last March 12. The memo then adopted by him and army and navy authorities was not made public at that time, but he apparently told the Truman investigating committee about it.

Under this agreement memo, he gave the armed services four powers:

(1) Direct authority to work out production schedules,

(2) Authority to re-negotiate contracts;

(3) Power over plant construction, and

(4) Direction of purchasing procedure.

This left his WPB with control over allocating materials between military and non-military users, but gave most other responsibility for fulfillment of the program to the army and navy.

If the argument now expands over who is to be the "goat" for any failure to meet production schedules, this overlooked memo is likely to play an important part.

Fortunately, however, the initial steps already being taken—as well as the popular comment—are veering away from that dangerous, delaying and possibly disastrous trend of goat finding, and toward a realistic solution of the actual problem—which is to locate the raw materials and get them to the right places.

Moscow Conference

The Churchill-Stalin conversations were no doubt concerned primarily with the problem of British and American supplies for Timoshenko's Caucasus army now retreating into the mountains.

While the problem of the second front is lively in public discussions and in morale-building propaganda efforts, it is purely a military one not to be decided by Churchill and Stalin.

But what Churchill could well have gone to Moscow to talk about is how he and the Americans might be able to sustain Timoshenko through the winter if he will hold the top of the Caucasus.

There he would be cut off from Russia proper, but accessible to the British and to us via the Iran rail line from the Persian gulf and by plane from Egypt. We could send not only materials, but troops.

28 Square Miles of Coral

Midway Islands Vital in Pacific War.

MIDWAY islands, suddenly important to Americans, are described by the marine corps press service as "northernmost of the Hawaiian islands." Until 1936, when they became useful bases for trans-Pacific planes they were only 28 square miles of coral shoals lying 1,800 miles northwest of Honolulu, though they had been under the jurisdiction of the United States navy department since 1903.

Earliest important landing of marines at Midway occurred in 1867 when a detachment of leathernecks raised Old Glory over the islands which had been claimed for the United States by an American sea captain in 1859.

In 1870 the U.S.S. Saginaw, which had been deepening a channel into a lagoon, struck the reefs and was wrecked. The ship's crew was marooned there for three months, living on birds and scanty food salvaged from the wreckage. Five crewmen sailed to a main Hawaiian island to bring assistance and four were drowned attempting to land their gig.

Midway did not attract attention again until the turn of the century when it was selected by a cable concern for its relay station.

Second notable landing of marines at Midway occurred May 4, 1904 when a detachment of leathernecks commanded by Lieutenant Clarence S. Owen arrived at the islands to supervise Japanese laborers employed by the cable company's contractors.

Principal duties of the marines were to maintain order on the islands and prevent destruction of bird life.

In order to carry out these duties, marines found it necessary to confiscate all firearms owned by the civilian population.

The marine corps base was destroyed by a hurricane in 1905. A few months later the Kennedy, a schooner carrying three months supplies for the leathernecks, was completely wrecked on the coral reefs. The following year the bark Carrolton was wrecked near the islands.

America's early claim to the islands, not considered overly important at the time, has a valuable bearing in our war with Japan.

It's the Attitude

By The Associated Press

TULSA, Okla.—Studying, from a psychological standpoint, the best approach to a customer in hot weather a Tulsa merchandising firm suggested its sales girls:

"Tell the customer, if the subject must be mentioned, that the heat isn't bad at all; tell him that he will feel much cooler by adopting a cheerful attitude. For after all the discomfort from heat is mostly in the mind."

"That may be so," said one of the sales girls, "but my mind sure doesn't perspire like the rest of me does."

The beautiful is the most useful in art; but the sublime is the most helpful to morals, for it elevates the mind.—Joubert.

Possible Truce Talk Not Expected To Find Much Sympathy Among United Nations.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

SOME Turkish journalists who have recently been in Germany, have come back home with the story that at the end of this summer's campaign in Europe the Nazis would like to stop the fighting, and to start negotiating with Britain and America. Similar stories have been circulating for some time, and there can be little doubt that there are Nazis who are exploring the idea of a grand essay in multiple treachery by which Germany would offer to abandon Japan, if the Allies would abandon Russia and the peoples of Europe.

The advantages which the Nazis would like to gain by putting out this idea are obvious. If they could make it appear that the Americans and the British were in any degree tempted, their agents would immediately approach the Russians and seek to restore in a new form the Hitler-Stalin pact of August, 1939. At the same time they would tell the Japanese that if they could get Russia temporarily out of the war and if they could get a truce in western Europe, Japan would gain enormously. For if the British and Americans could be persuaded to let down their guard in the West and could be induced to move large forces from Europe to the Pacific, Hitler could at the right moment break the truce, knock out Britain, paralyze the United States, and thus make certain a Japanese victory.

A grand maneuver, based on the same fundamental pattern, did work in the year between Munich and the outbreak of the war. The connection with Russia was broken at Munich. Russia was neutralized in August, 1939. Japan's alliance with Hitler was kept dark. Britain and France were isolated and American pacifism was encouraged. It is most probable, therefore, that there are Nazis who are wondering whether this huge success cannot be repeated in a new form. In war, in business and in crime there is a strong tendency in all men to keep using the pattern which once worked successfully.

There are, however, invincible reasons why the same grandiose maneuvers cannot be repeated now. The good faith of the pledges which the United Nations have given one another is guaranteed by the objective situation. Once that objective situation is truly understood, the impossibility of a negotiated truce by Britain and America is self-evident.

Truce Called Impossible

The basic fact in the situation is that Germany and Japan, on the one hand, and Great Britain and the United States, on the other, are now irretrievably committed to a total mobilization for war. No truce is conceivable under these conditions, because no country could demobilize and return to a civilian economy. If our enemies demobilized, the occupied countries would explode in their faces. If we demobilized and relaxed even a little, the British Isles would lie open to an annihilating surprise attack, and we should lie open to Pearl Harbors in all our far-flung defenses.

A statement truce is a technical impossibility in a total war. Even if it were theoretically possible to cease firing, neither side could cease to stand at alert, neither could demobilize its men, neither could reconvert its industry to civilian use. For the side that relaxed even a little would at once be mortally vulnerable. The tension of standing fully mobilized indefinitely and forever alert would be unbearable. The strain would be greater than the strain of war itself; the waiting would be harder than acting. The costs would be greater because there could never be any let up to them until by lightning strokes the truce was broken and the war started again.

It is possible that many Americans would not have understood this if it had not been for the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. But now they have to understand it. For Pearl Harbor proved beyond any argument that if our enemies retain the power to deliver lightning strokes at our vital defenses, they will deliver the lightning strokes at some moment when we are not perfectly ready for them.

What we learned at Pearl Harbor the Russians learned in June, 1941, and all our other Allies in the successive lightning strokes since the seizure of Austria.

Different Kinds of War

The idea of ending wars without a complete military decision belongs to the age of wars fought by nations living within the same moral order. Excepting only the Napoleonic Wars, which were total wars like this one, the wars within Christendom were conducted by governments which recognized the same customs and the same codes of honor in warfare. They were fought for limited purposes, to gain territory, to settle disputes. They were not wars of annihilation and of absolute domination.

The wars of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth centuries and the small wars of the Nineteenth century did not begin with attempts to annihilate by surprise and they were waged for disputed but definite aims, and they ended, therefore, in a truce and negotiation. This is not that kind of war. A war which began without notice on Sunday morning in Pearl Harbor cannot end until the power to start such a war has been destroyed. For if it ended sooner, the repetition of Pearl Harbor would be so certain that the task of being always prepared for Pearl Harbor would mean the endless militarization of the country.

There is no use, therefore, in our enemies concocting offers of a truce. For they are bound to be met by the question that the enemy governments can never answer: How do you intend to convince us that you are not Mr. Kurusu, repeating himself, and that you are not preparing another Pearl Harbor while we talk with you?

"I didn't know they had first-aid courses then!"

War Songs

Office of War Information Wary Plenty of the Old Socko in Ballads for Our Men Abroad.

By DAMON RUNYON

ABEL GREEN, editor of Variety, the Broadway authority on matters musical and theatrical, gives me some light on the war song situation.

He says in as theatrical trade press advice on the preliminary master-minding of the office of war information to abate the banal and tactless in song writing for this war. The OWI feels that our popular songs having to do with the war effort are not "socko" enough.

The word "socko" is Mr. Green's and Variety's. It means punch, but an extra heavy punch like Joe Louis' left hook. Mr. Green thinks that in no small measure the theories of the OWI are well supported.

He says that basically the premise of the OWI is that war songs should not attempt to ridicule our enemies, should not be maudlin, should not be offensive to any of our friends and neighbors, such as the Latin American folk, and should not worry the lads at the front with thoughts of other guys copping their girls back home.

Nor should the songs, in the opinion of the OWI, suggest that this is a cinch war or, so to speak, complacency in the manner of a certain quite popular ballad that breathes of everything being all right after this is over. It is said that this particular song is not fancied at the White House because of its excessive spirit of complacency.

MR. GREEN mentions some of the songs that the OWI feels lack the proper zing. I refrain from exposing them by title lest friends in the music publishing business think I am attempting to deprecate their merchandise. I suppose the reason why we have these types of songs now going the rounds is that they are more saleable than material the OWI may deem appropriate.

Mr. Green tells me that a favorite example of a worthy song as the OWI views it, is a current ballad entitled "This Is Worth Fighting For." For I confess I have not heard the song, but if the OWI approves it, I imagine it carries a message for American morale. I have a doubt that it is possible to ordain a song into popular favor with the soldiers or civilians unless it has the musical and lyrical elements of popularity, but I am willing to help the effort. I say the soldiers and civilians will sing only the songs they like in this war as in every other war, and they must be good songs. "Over There," or a "Tipperary," or a "Long Trail" will always catch the soldier and civilian fancy, regardless of official approval or disapproval. That is because they are essentially good songs.

I AM interested in Mr. Green's statement that Composer Sigmund Romberg, president of the Songwriters' Protective association and prolific camp entertainer, and Lanny Ross, other musicians who are active in this entertainment report that the boys like "gang" songs of yesteryear, the kind they can join in singing, such as "Down By The Old Mill Stream" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." It seems to prove my point that the soldiers will sing only what they like.

Our government for the purposes of the radio beaming to Australia, Iceland, Alaska, the Caribbean and other places where there are American troops uses "Over There" as an inspirational theme, according to Mr. Green, which is what pointed up the OWI's interest in popular songs. But he admits, somewhat glumly, I suspect, that songs of a later date and more banal in lyrical thought remain the favorites with the boys.

That is why William B. Lewis, former vice president of CBS in charge of radio production and now otherizing expert under Elmer Davis in OWI, is trying to get the song writers and publishers to give us something more dignified. A new song era along these lines might not actually win the war, but it would probably raise the tone of our popular song production.

UNION CO. OFFICER WITH MACARTHUR

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 22—Col. Karl F. Baldwin, son of Frank Baldwin of Richwood, has been in close contact with General Douglas MacArthur in Australia, according to a letter received by his brother, Gale Baldwin, Union county superintendent of schools.

Col. Baldwin is a member of Gen. MacArthur's staff and has dined with the general and Mrs. MacArthur on numerous occasions. Col. Baldwin was stationed on the Pacific coast until about four months ago when he left for Australia.

Col. Baldwin stated that he had received no word from his son Capt. Chandler Baldwin since the fall of Corrigidor. Capt. Baldwin was stationed at Fort Mills on Corrigidor when the fort was captured by the Japs in May. He stated that the Japs had given the fortress a terrific shelling which continued a week after the guns there had been silenced and even after the island had surrendered.

Fire Hits Storage Building at Forest

Special to The Star

FOREST, Aug. 22 — Flames, evidently originating from a rubbish fire, shortly after noon Thursday, did an unestimated amount of damage to the storage garage of the J. W. Shileds funeral home here.

Mrs. Shields drove an automobile and the hearse from the burning structure. The hearse was damaged when it struck a post while being driven out.

The building was used as a garage and as a storage room for all funeral equipment, including chairs and caskets. Many of the best chairs were ruined. Much damage was done to caskets.

The quick action of the fire department kept the fire from spreading to adjacent property.

Y PROGRAM INCLUDES APPLE, PENNY EVENTS

Groups Engage in Swim Pool Contests; Dance Held.

The Pioneer group of the Y. M. C. A., a group of junior high school boys, bobbed for apples and dove for pennies Wednesday afternoon. Six pounds of apples and 30 pennies were thrown into the pool for the boys to recover. They were not allowed to touch the apples with their hands. Approximately 40 boys participated.

The apple bobbing contest was won by Robert Taylor who got nine, and Orville Davis, Jimmy Threlfall, and Richard Kneisley tied for second place with seven apples. Robert Taylor retrived 16 pennies, Richard Kneisley got six and Albert Threlfall recovered five.

The Little Friendly Indians held a similar contest Thursday afternoon. This group consisted of about 40 boys, Forrest Sharrock, director of swimming, said. The boys completed the day with a potluck supper and a theater party. Gene Cooper won the apple bobbing contest with six apples and Bobby Bykes got give apples to win second place. Gene Cooper recovered six pennies and Gary Hogue got four.

Attendance at the Club Coed old timers dance Thursday night was 79. The records played were all old tunes of several years ago. Vivian Loyer and Betty Lee were in charge of arrangements.

Wednesday night the 18 women who recently graduated from the beginning class to the advanced class held a splash party in celebration of their graduation. They played various types of water games.

Jack Coughlin, Y. M. C. A. athletic director, announced that the ladder ping-pong tournament of the Little Friendly Indians group is under way. The names of the contestants will be placed on the rungs of a ladder. The boys who draw the lower rungs challenge the contestants on the upper rungs and exchange places with them if they win.

MARION HOUSING FIRM INCORPORATED

Work on Universal Cooler Addition To Start Soon.

Incorporation of Universal Housing, Inc., a development company, organized to build 46 living units in the northwest section of Marion, was reported today along with the announcement that work on the first eight of the living units is scheduled to begin late next week.

The firm was incorporated for $25,000 and officers are Pat Dwyer, president; Mrs. Iva G. Clark, vice-president and treasurer; and Mrs. Lucile Jacobs, secretary. The company has hired C. W. Richards, Cleveland builder and contractor, to supervise the construction work.

All of the 46 living units, 21 double houses and 4 single dwellings, will be located on the south section of Fish avenue. Installation of water lines will start next week and the living units are expected to be ready for occupancy within 60 days after the ground is broken.

Cost of the project is estimated at $180,000. The houses will be located just north of the Universal Cooler company plant, beginning at Joseph street and reaching north to one-half block south of Fairground street.

The builders already have received assistance of WPB officials in obtaining a priority rating to acquire sufficient building materials. The houses will be financed under the FHA program.

AKRON STRIKE ENDS

Given Fine, Jail Term for Theft of Tire

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Aug. 22—Charles Koontz, 24, of nearby Mt. Victory, studied today in his cell at the Hardin county jail the "high price" of automobile tires.

Major Leroy Hoppe yesterday found him guilty of stealing a spare tire from the car of Ira C. Mitchell, Ridgeway hardware merchant, and fined him $100 and costs and sentenced him to 60 days in county jail. The total cost of the tire, which was recovered, would run Koontz $263.70, counting his jail time as worth $1.50 per day.

WITH the opening of the club season "just around the corner" Marion clubwomen are taking time out from defense and other wartime work to search for material for club programs the coming season. Many clubs will keep abreast of the times through program topics and others are abandoning club programs and devoting meeting hours to wartime sewing or other work. Early October will find practically all clubs getting under way and that time also will find the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs opening the year.

Opening Oct. 5 will be the Research club which has chosen to continue "The Good Neighbor Tour of South America." The first meeting will be in the form of a presidents tea with Mrs. C. J. Watrous as hostess. Serving as officers with Mrs. Watrous this year will be Mrs. D. J. Shelton, vice president, Mrs. Gladys C. Arter, recording secretary; Mrs Ben Jacoby, corresponding secretary, Mrs. O. C. Alspach, treasurer.

MISS MARTHA JANE VAN ATTA, who will become the bride of Robert Minard Sept. 4, was complimented with a party given Thursday evening by Mrs. Newell Minard and Mrs. Ray Biddle at the home of the latter at 169 Homer street.

Close friends of the bride-elect were present and the evening was spent in making a bride's scrap book. The hostesses presented Miss Van Atta with a personal gift. The dining table was decorated in red, white and blue.

Mrs. K. P. Riley and Mrs. Walter Minshall presented the lesson study at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. L. Scowden of Lawrence avenue. Mrs. James O'Dowd conducted the devotions and Mrs. Scowden and Mrs. O'Dowd sang a duet. Miss Virginia O'Dowd, a guest, reported on a synodical meeting held at Wooster early this summer. Mrs. Scowden was enrolled as a member of the society.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morchart of 235 South Main street entertained their nephew, Dale Morchart, and their nephew, Dale Morchart, and their son-in-law, Robert Holliday. The former will leave soon for Fort Harrison, Ind., for army training, and Mr. Holliday will go to Camp Perry for basic training in the army ordnance division. The table was decorated in red, white and blue and there was a khaki colored cake decorated with a victory sign outlined in flags and surrounded with iron soldiers representing the different branches of the army. Present with the honor guests were Mrs Robert Holliday, Mr and Mrs. Frank Holliday, Mr. James D. Morehart and Mr and Mrs. Dallas R. Harruff and daughter, Judy, of Marion, Mrs Edna Fortney of Toledo, and B M Cahill of Ottawa.

The F. C. club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs Betty Whittington of 491 Avondale avenue. The mystery package went to Mrs. Myrtle Brothers. Contests were won by Mrs. Edith Willmeth and Mrs. Mona George and the door prize was awarded to Mrs. Willmeth. Mrs. Lorena Hoptry and Mrs Brothers were presented with wedding anniversary gifts by the club.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Willmeth. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lillian Craff of 466 Scranton avenue.

Mrs. Ralph Walker of 781 Congress street entertained Monday afternoon for her daughter, Rosalie's, fourth birthday anniversary. Contest awards went to Phyllis Laucher and Joyce Neidhart. The guests were Don and Terry Everly, Virginia and Janet Early, Robert and Vance Dutton, Phyllis and Evelyn Laucher, Joyce Neidhart, Sharon Lee Murphy and Joyce Walker.

Mrs. Louise Griffith, Mrs. Coral Loffler and Mrs. Ollie Ebling were hostesses to the Sunflower club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Griffith on Cherry street. A picnic was planned for Sept. 10 at McKinley park. Guests included Mrs. Blanche Maas, Mrs. Daisy Felty and Miss Betty Johnson. Mrs. Mabel Porter of California was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. Clara Hildreth of West Columbia street was hostess for a meeting of the Coterie club Thursday evening. In a short business session a contribution of $2 was made to the canteen for service men at the Union station. Mrs. A. J. Rashid of Omaha, Neb., niece of Mrs. Frank Renzenberger, was a guest.

Mrs. Joe Wilson of Oak Grove avenue entertained the Cinderella club Thursday evening. In euchre first honors went to Mrs. Clyde Hall and second and lone hand to Mrs. Arthur Wyatt. Mrs. Harold Tobin received the floating award and Mrs. J. N. Benner was consoled.

Personal Mention

Miss Massie And Pfc. Brammer to Be Wed Monday

OPEN church will be observed for the marriage of Miss Frances Massie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eaton of 532 North State street, and Pfc. Ralph Brammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brammer of Athelstone, Wis., Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Epworth Methodist church. The pastor, Dr. S. M. Ingmire, will read the ceremony.

Announcement of the engagement and wedding was made Thursday evening when Mrs. Eaton entertained at her home. The announcement was found by Mrs. Helen Baker in a clue given in the first prize for the evening. The announcement was found hidden in a tent guarded by miniature soldiers. Mrs. Esther Knickle received the consolation award.

A patriotic note was carried out in the party appointments and the rooms were decorated with garden flowers. Favors were in a military theme and refreshments were in Miss Massie's wedding colors of blue and white. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Clarence Humes.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Harding High school with the class of 1936, and is employed at the S. S. Kresge 5-10 and 25c store. Mr. Brammer was graduated from Harding High school in 1931 and is stationed with the coast artillery at Fort Stevens, Ore., where he has been since February last year.

GIRL SCOUTS CONCLUDE SCHOOL NURSERY WORK

Party for Children Ends Six Weeks' Service.

A group of senior Girl Scouts, members of the Girl Scout service bureau, who have been caring for children of women taking a home nursing course at the North Main Street school, closed the nursery with a party for the children Wednesday. The nursery was operated every Monday and Wednesday afternoon at the school for six weeks. The nursery was in charge of Marilyn Beal, a senior Scout, who received her training at the Senior Service Scout Institute held at Columbus early this summer. Assisting were Esther Markley and Martha Gale Frew, senior scouts, and Evelyn Betz and Mary Jane Williams, intermediate scouts.

The children, who were between the ages of 2 and 7 years, were entertained with games, stories, coloring and recreational periods. Refreshments were served and there was a rest period.

TEACHER SHORTAGE THREATENED IN OHIO

Many Essential Departments May Be Closed.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22 — A teacher shortage this year may force some schools to close departments "most essential" in wartime, says Education Director Kenneth C. Ray.

Ray said 800 teacher vacancies a large portion of them in northeastern Ohio, may end industrial arts, physical education, business, science, mathematics and vocational agriculture instruction in certain areas.

"This would be most unfortunate, in view of the fact that these seem to be the most essential fields of instruction in wartime," Ray commented.

A coach shortage and a lack of transportation facilities for athletic teams may require other schools to discontinue interscholastic sports and substitute intramural events, he declared.

Boards of education have hired married women to fill vacancies, he added, and "many more could be employed but are reluctant to accept positions through fear of the effect on the husband's draft status."

CLUB ENTERTAINED

Workmen's Compensation Claims Set New Record

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—A record number of claims for workmen's compensation were filed with the Ohio industrial commission in July. Chairman Will T. Blake reported today, the 30,160 last month topping the previous record in October, 1941, by 125.

"This increase in industrial accidents and the resultant loss in manpower and man-hours constitutes a serious threat to the war production program," Blake said, "and I cannot urge too strongly that safe working practices be established as of equal importance, as production in Ohio's war industries."

The July claims total was 14.2 per cent larger than in July, 1941. The first seven months this year saw 17.5 per cent more claims filed than in the corresponding period a year ago.

WALK-TO-WORK PLAN PROPOSED IN CAPITAL

Columbus Seeks Solution To Transportation Problem.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug. 22—A limited walk-to-work program may be ordered for Ohio's capital unless a solution to the city's transportation problems, a utility city's wartime transportation day.

Morgan L. Evans, vice president of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., told the city's wartime transportation committee that such action may be necessary, adding:

"The thought among office of defense transportation officials in Washington is that if a person lives within two miles of his work, he needs no transportation service."

Evans said his company, which operates public transportation facilities here, had been ordered by the ODT to reduce the number of buses and street cars traveling the full route of any one line to eliminate parallel routes and to give preference to war industry workers.

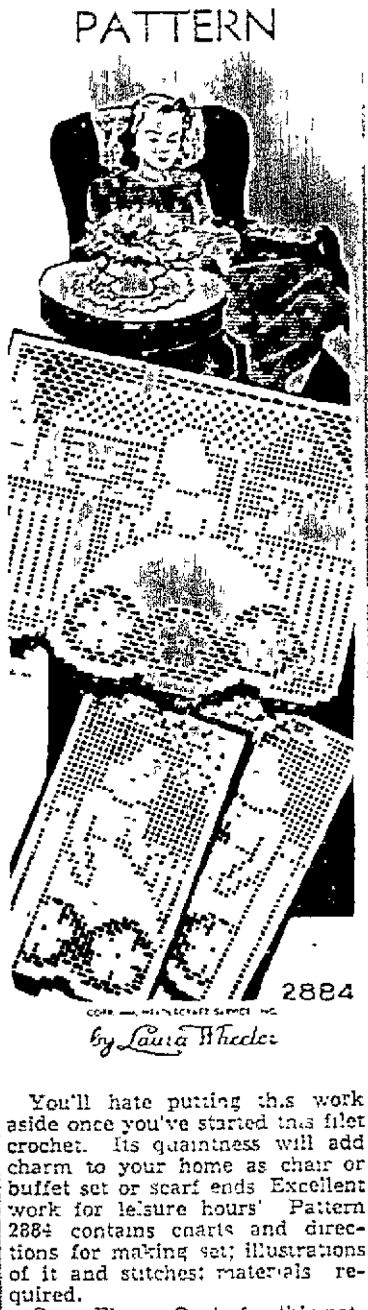

Chester C. Cook, city transportation coordinator, said he had been authorized by the ODT to put a limited walk-to-work order into effect, if necessary.

Cook said he would ask city council for authority to put the committee's recommendations into effect as soon as possible.

Spy Suspect Sticks to Story for 7 Hours

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 22—For seven hours of cross-examination Herbert Karl Friedrich Bahr steadfastly stuck to his story that he came to this country with the intention of turning over to the United States information he obtained in his relations with the Gestapo.

He insisted yesterday he never intended to go through with the plan he and the German Gestapo agreed upon in Germany and had mental reservations when he told the Gestapo he would act for them here. The 29-year-old former Buffalo, N. Y., engineering honor student asserted he was innocent of the espionage charge, only accepting the Gestapo instructions so as to be able to return to this country.

BATTLE

Americans "had been repulsed."

"Known enemy losses inflicted by the marines are at least 80 Japanese killed, radio installations and stores destroyed and one large and one small seaplane destroyed on the water," the communique said.

Losses were suffered by the enemy in heavy bombing attacks dealt by their own confused aircraft which arrived from other bases to assist their beleaguered countrymen.

"Ships of our expedition gunned and sank one small transport and one gunboat," the communique said. "Considering the nature of this operation our forces suffered only moderate losses."

Neither Roosevelt nor either of the other two officers in charge of the raid was on the casualty list. Admiral Nimitz said.

The surprise raid indicated that American forces are seeking out Japanese bases and strong points on some of the hundreds of enemy-held islands in the South Pacific area, for a continuous "stepping stone" offensive against the Japanese.

Allied Bombers Hit Jap Base Again

By The Associated Press

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, Aug. 22—Allied bombers struck their second successive blow yesterday at the Japanese-occupied village of Maobisse, Portuguese Timor, and a royal Australian air force spokesman said "they finish off what remained after the Thursday attack."

A Japanese Zero fighter, one of three which rose to challenge the raiders, was shot down into the sea. One allied plane was lost, the first to fall in more than a dozen successive attacks against Timor military bases and shipping.

Activity in the northeastern sector (New Guinea and New Britain) was reported limited to reconnaissance.

Hayden Leonard of the Australian Broadcasting Commission said in a report heard by CBS in New York that "some tons" of bombs were dropped on Maobisse, a Japanese hide-way in the central mountains of Timor.

Much damage was done and the Japanese troop concentration may have been broken up, he said.

One Australian-manned Lockheed Hudson bomber escaped from the raid after a thrilling "hide and seek battle in the gorges of the mountains," a BBC correspondent, William Meriot, said in another broadcast from Australia.

Speeding at tree-top level the Hudson once evaded three pursuing Zeros by aiming at one gorge and diving into another at the last minute. But the gorges converged and the bomber met up with its pursuers again.

The battle continued over the sea at so low a level that one of the Zeros crashed when its wing dipped into the waves, Meriot said.

McSWEENEY SPENT $2,560

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Aug. 22 — John McSweeney of Wooster spent $2,560 to win the Democratic nomination for governor, he informed the secretary of state by telephone today. He listed receipts at $1,140.

MARION COMPANIES IN JUNK PRICE SUIT

Ceiling Violations Alleged in U. S. Court Action.

The Osgood Co. of Marion has been enjoined from purchasing iron and steel scrap at prices above the OPA ceilings, The Associated Press reported today from Cleveland.

Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed signed the injunction against the Osgood Co. on a motion by the OPA and with the company's consent the news dispatch reported. The court found that the company's violations of ceilings were not willful, it stated.

The office of war information at Cleveland also said that operations of five scrap dealers and brokers were under investigation in connection with the Osgood case. The court petition named the following as above-ceiling sellers: the Balka Iron & Steel Co. of Alliance, Malo Brothers and the Marion Iron & Metal Co. of Marion, the Duberstein Iron & Metal Co. of Dayton and the H. J. Hull & Son Co. of Mt. Gilead.

Answer of Marion Firms

Both Marion firms named in the petition, when contacted today by The Star, declared they had never knowingly violated any of the OPA price ceiling regulations and had gone to great pains to make sure their prices were within the regulations. Both said they had not received any notices about the proceedings nor given an opportunity to present answers to the charges.

The Associated Press reported that an affidavit was presented by Sperry L. Searles, an inspector for the OPA out of the Cleveland office, who charged that on March 5, 1942, Malo Brothers sold a little less than 41 tons of forgings to the Osgood Co. at $25 a ton whereas the maximum price should have been $22.38. In commenting on this, Malo Brothers today said there are several grades of forgings and that $25 is within the price ceiling permitted on some grades.

Prices Defended

The affidavit also contends the Marion Iron & Metal Co. sold 8½ tons of crankshaft forgings and spring steel to the Osgood Co. on May 6, charging $23.50. It contends the maximum price should have been $19.08. Newman Browarsky, proprietor of the Marion Iron & Metal Co., said today with regard to this complaint that he handled this scrap as a broker, buying it on the market, adding the 50 cents a ton commission to which he was entitled by OPA regulations and selling it to the Osgood Co. at the cost plus 50 cents price. He said he had "leaned over backward" in efforts to comply with the regulations and that he was prepared to defend his prices.

The Mt. Gilead firm is charged with selling 2½ tons of steel scrap to the Osgood Co. on March 19 at $19.70 a ton plus a 50 cent commission. The OPA charges the scrap came from the Mt. Gilead firm's own junk yards and hence it was not entitled to a broker's commission.

OIL SUPPLY

Davies said it was planned to obtain government financing for the line and to build it with second hand pipe.

Preliminary surveys and other engineering details are now being developed, he said, and construction of the line could be completed before the close of navigation on Lake Erie.

Davis said it would be possible to commence movement of products under the interim arrangement "in the very near future." He said the plan provided for these steps:

1. An increase in the capacity of the Shell Oil company's Zionsville, Ind., to Lima, O., pipeline from 15,000 to 23,000 barrels daily by installation of a new pump station at Muncie, Ind.

2. Connection at Zionsville of the pipelines of Standard Oil company of Indiana and Shell, and sale by Standard to Shell, for movement to Lima, of 8,000 barrels of products daily. At Lima, Shell will deliver this amount to Standard Oil of Ohio, which will move it to Toledo and its Lima-Toledo products pipeline.

3. Movement of the 8,000 barrels daily from Toledo to Cleveland by water, with an additional 7,000 barrels daily which will originate at Toledo.

4. Movement from Cleveland to Akron, via the products lines of Standard Oil of Ohio and the Sun-Susquehanna system, supplemented by transport truck if necessary, of 15,000 barrels daily.

5. Reversal of the Sun-Susquehanna line between Akron and Newark, N. J., as is now being done, to make possible a 15,000-barrel daily movement to Newark.

Newark Man Likely Democratic Chairman

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—Political observers who declined use of their names predicted today Darrell S. Jones, Newark insurance broker, would direct John McSweeney's Democratic gubernatorial campaign.

They understood that Jones would accept the chairmanship of the party's executive committee at a meeting Tuesday of the state central committee. Jones managed McSweeney's primary campaign, but previously was reported as hesitant about taking the chairmanship.

Jones was assistant state welfare director under McSweeney during former Gov. George White's administration.

Nine Bodies Found After Bomber Crash

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 22—Army rescue workers searched a heavily wooded section near here today for additional victims of a crash of two medium bombers late yesterady. Nine bodies had been recovered.

The army said that names of the victims would not be made public until the relatives had been notified.

Officers at Harding Field, near here, said the two planes were in a flight of five and had just taken off on an "operational mission" when they crashed in midair. The army said eyewitnesses reported a number of men floated to earth by parachute.

Rationing of Coffee Now Appears Probable

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—Possibility of coffee rationing appeared closer today with the government ordering further restrictions in deliveries to dealers because of the shipping shortage between this country and Latin America.

The order, issued yesterday by the war production board, will restrict deliveries beginning Sept. 1 to 65 per cent of last year's as compared with the present monthly quota of 75 per cent.

Japanese Drive In China Fails To Get Results

By GLENN BABB
Wide World War Analyst

The five-year-old war in China recently has undergone a startling change. Three months ago the Japanese opened a campaign that some feared might knock China out of the war. Six weeks ago most of east-central China seemed to be falling into their hands. But today a large part of the ... gains has been cancelled.

On other China fronts they have stalemated for weeks. The proudly-announced plan to establish an all-rail connection between Shanghai and Singapore definitely is on the shelf.

It still is too early to say whether this is the result primarily of reinvigorated Chinese striking power or of change in the Japanese army's plans. In either case, however, evidence points to the early opening of a new phase of the Pacific war, taking the form either of a bold new Japanese stroke or of the passing of the initiative in China from Japanese hands.

Our information thus far comes entirely from the Chinese.

Even while their communiques record the resurgence of their forces, Chungking military authorities have their fingers crossed.

The prospect of a Japanese attack on Russia remains an ever-present danger, one that might alter the whole strategical position of the United Nations. All reports agree that Japan's Manchurian army is ready and eager to go. But the most favorable time for such a blow would be right now and every day that passes seems to make it more unlikely, at least for this year.

MRS. ARTOPOEUS OF E. CENTER ST. DIES

Funeral Services To Be Held Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Mrs. Wilma Young Artopoeus, 53, died in her home at 520 East Center street at 8.45 a. m. today after an illness of eight months, the result of a fall she suffered in 1935.

Mrs. Artopoeus was born June 6, 1889 to Edward and Alice Grandstaff Young in Dayton. Both parents were natives of Dayton. Her marriage was to Frederick Artopoeus Aug 11, 1909. She has resided in Marion 39 years and was a member of Calvary Evangelical church and the women's auxiliary of the Eagles lodge.

Besides her husband four daughters, Mrs. LeRoy Dawson of 446 South Vine street, Mrs. Gail Neiderhauser and Mrs. Floyd McFann of Toledo and Mrs. Harold Balliet of Sycamore and a son, Otto Artopoeus, at home, and seven grandchildren survive. Also surviving are the step-mother, Mrs. Fred Landon, and a half-sister, Mrs. James Severns, of State Route 98.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue. Rev. P. E. Smoke of Calvary church will be in charge and burial will be in Forest Glen Memorial park. Friends may call at the home after noon tomorrow until the body is taken to the funeral home Tuesday at 11 a. m.

Married Men Without Dependents in Army Soon

By The Associated Press

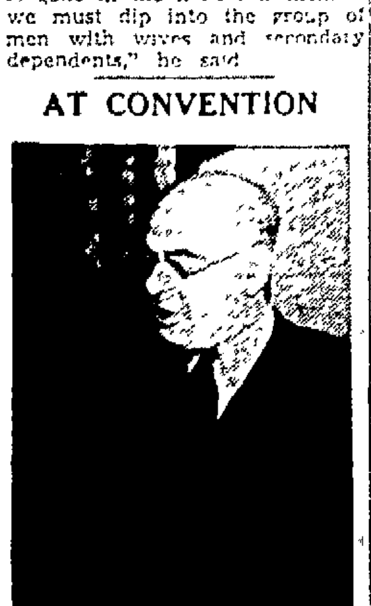

CHICAGO, Aug. 22—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, offers this succinct advice to physically fit married men with no other dependents than wives:

"Begin making arrangements now to enter the army."

In a speech and at a press conference here yesterday Gen. Hershey said reclassification of all married men would begin "probably in October and certainly by Christmas."

"When the supply of single men is gone in the next few months we must dip into the group of men with wives and secondary dependents," he said.

base-running contests for youths of grade school and junior high school ages. Winner in each event of each division will be awarded $1 in war savings stamps.

The Reed avenue-Chicago avenue boys' game will follow. Lowell Cooperider will pitch for the Reed avenue team, while Don Dutt will be the Chicago avenue hurler. Other members of the Reed avenue team are: John and Dave Boyles, Don, Ken and Al Eates, Junior and Dick Kelly and Lawrence Wilson. Other Chicago avenue players are: David Lee, Jerry Knickles, Dick Clark, Rob Roy Reidenbaugh, Ralph Weber, Dan McDonald, Clair C. and Richard R. Layman and Gene Miller.

Ball players competing in any of the men's softball games will be eligible to enter the senior division ball throwing and base running contests. Two dollars in war savings stamps will be awarded the winner of each contest and $1 in war savings stamps will be given to the second best competitor.

Crowning of Queen

At about 4 p. m. the successful queen candidate will be introduced. Miss Marilyn Meseke, Marion dance teacher who won the title "Miss America 1938" in the national beauty pageant at Atlantic City, N. J., will crown Miss Amateur Day. A court of honor of four girls, next to the queen in the election, will accompany the queen.

Miss Meseke, the Amateur Day queen and her court of honor will meet at the Central fire station early Sunday afternoon and will be taken to the park in the city fire department's new triple-pumper truck.

The girl who wins the Miss Amateur Day title will be awarded a $25 war savings bond.

Following the crowning ceremonies the Universal Cooler Corp. team will meet the Deal House team of Bucyrus in another five-inning softball game which will be followed by a brief drill program by Co. H of the Ohio State Guard under the direction of Capt. Carl Ebert, the Marion Rifles and the women's ambulance corps.

Capt. Ebert today requested all members of Co. H, the Rifles and the ambulance corps to assemble at the armory at 3 p. m. Sunday to participate in the Lincoln park program.

The Scioto Ordnance Plant All-Stars and the Coca-Cola team will meet in the principal softball game at about 6 p. m.

Between events during the program prizes in war savings stamps will be awarded.

The Eagles band will play during the program.

Bleachers accommodating at least 1,500 persons were moved to Lincoln park yesterday from Harding stadium. This will assure seats for at least 3,500 persons, committeemen said.

Employes of the Hunkin-Conkey Co. today planned to work on the ball diamond and get it in first class playing condition.

The British West Indies supply the United States with virtually all of the limes used in medicines.

WILLKIE PLANS TRIP TO WAR FRONTS

After a conference with President Roosevelt in Washington, Wendell Willkie tells reporters that he would leave in about three weeks on a trip to the Near East and Russia "to perform certain services for the government."

president of the Evangelical Theological seminary; Rev. H. M. Shadle of Fremont, Rev. W. H. Herkner of Lorain, Rev. J. R. Dallas of Marion.

Lay Delegates

Lay delegates elected are: Henry J. Fromm of Canton; Edwin Heine of Cleveland; Torrey A. Kaatz of Toledo, H. E. Kiess of Bucyrus, A. E. Leedy of Vermont; E. F. Stephan of Upper Sandusky; Charles Theurer of Cleveland; George F. Ebel of Canton; E. C. George of Findlay; Stephan Coldiron of Akron.

A Marion man, Harvey W. Zachman was one of four laymen chosen as alternates to the General Evangelical conference in October, at this morning's conference session. Others are Howard Pierce of Warren, Merritt Clymer fo Canton and H. G. Carmany of Baltimore.

Ministerial alternates chosen are Rev. W. R. Shisler of Huron, secretary of the conference, Rev. J. Paul Jones of Columbus, Rev. Merle Hayes of Akron and Rev. Victor Peterson of Cleveland. Reports of officers and committees were scheduled for today's business session which will close this afternoon.

All services Sunday will be open to the public. At the morning worship and ordination service to be held at 10:15 o'clock Dr. H. R. Heininger of Naperville will preside and the ordination sermon will be delivered by George E. Epp, D. D., LL. D. The following will receive recognition at the ordination service. Rev. Wayne Baxter of Circleville, Rev. Robert Sutherland of Warren, Rev. Durlim Dunum of Akron, Rev. James Herbst of Findlay licensed; Rev. Daniel D. Carmany of Millburg, Rev. Malcolm W. George of Moline, Rev. Homer L. Rickel of Luckey, Rev. Aldine L. Riter of Canton, Rev. James C. Hough of Nellie, Rev. Earl W. Toy of Belmore, Rev. Harry V. Summers of South Akron, O., and Rev. Gail Bergstresser of North East, Pa., deacons; Rev. Ralph Carmany of Youngstown, Rev. Raleigh A. Sain of Independence, Rev. Albert Mathias of Polk, and Rev. Harry L. Adams of Columbus, elders. Bishop Epp's subject will be "Paul's Appraisal of the Christian Ministry."

Anniversary Service

Dr. H. E. Williamson of Canton will preside for the anniversary service of the Ohio Conference Missionary society at 2:30 p. m. The missionary address will be given by Dr. W. L. Bollman of Cleveland, executive secretary of the General Missionary society. The conference will close with the assignment of ministers by Bishop Epp.

At the Friday session the historical society, in its annual session, recognized the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of Rev. C. S. Poling of Lancaster and Rev. M. J. Temple of Akron.

Election of delegates occupied the business sessions of the conference Friday. Rev. G. C. Gabriel, district superintendent of the Central Pennsylvania conference, spoke on the subject "The Importance and Value of the Individual." "The scarcity of conversions in the church today argues the need of the re-emphasis of the value of one individual soul," he said. "Jesus saw faces on earth, in Heaven and Hell one man led Dwight L. Moody and John R. Mott to Christ."

Dr. McNaught Speaks

A speaker on the afternoon program was Dr. S. P. McNaught of Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League. In a brief talk he told the ministers and delegates that the liquor interests were fully organized and appealed to the conference to help in building sentiment to abolish intoxicating beverages in the interest of the men who are now in the armed forces and who will be going into the service of this country. He predicted that if measures were not taken to curb the sale and use of intoxicating liquor to those in our armed forces and those in our defense industries, and "unless we plead for leadership from God," the allied forces will lose the war. He challenged the church to use its influence in the fight. He said we are sending our boys into this fight, clean physically and morally and we have a right to ask that they be returned to us clean physically and morally.

Preaches Sermon

Rev. Gabriel spoke on "Where Sin Abounded Grace Did Abound More Exceedingly" at last night's session.

"Sin blots, sin binds but He breaks the power of cancelled sin and sets the prisoner free," he declared. He told his audience that because Jesus lived we too shall live, that life is not earned or merited, but given.

4 HURT AS AUTO UPSETS IN CRASH

Car and Truck In Sideswipe Collision Near Marion.

Four persons were injured, none seriously, when their automobile overturned following a sideswipe collision with a tractor and semi-trailer about 2 a. m. today on state route 4 about 12 miles south of Marion, highway patrolmen reported.

Wilfred Davis, driver of the car, Thomas Boyd, and Mrs. Alfred Young of Bellevue and Mrs. Sula Duval, all occupants of the southbound car, were taken to City hospital by the Boyd & Uncapher ambulance. They suffered bruises and lacerations.

Davis' car and the truck, driven by Ernest Decker of Cleveland, were badly damaged. The truck also overturned and blocked a portion of the highway, patrolmen reported.

SEVEN MONTHS ENOUGH FLYING TIGER DECLARES

Pilot Back in U. S. After Bagging 13 Jap Planes.

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Aug. 22 — Seven months of knocking Jap planes out of the Burma and China skies is enough for any man's nerves, says Robert Neale, one of the famed Flying Tigers.

Neale, credited with downing 13 Jap planes and destroying three others on the ground, came home to his bride yesterday with the estimate that a Flying Tiger's life was the kind that no man could lead for very long.

"Less than a year really does it," added the modest airman, with a smiling glance at the bride he left behind shortly after their marriage last summer.

His arduous months at the controls, when a typical working day started at 3 a. m., took his weight from 175 pounds to 147.

Once his plane was shot down. Another time he escaped into a cloud with two Jap fighter planes on his tail and came out of it with 20 bullet holes in his ship.

Once a Jap bomber literally blew up in his face.

Indians Defeat White Sox, 3-2, To Strengthen Grip on Third Place

Detroit Tigers Help Tribe Cause by Downing St. Louis Browns, 4-1.

By The Associated Press

Still without departing from their "good pitching, weak hitting" formula, the Indians held a steadier grip on third place today, thanks to their adroitness in backing into a 3 to 2 conquest of the White Sox.

While Mel Harder was hurling five-hit ball last night, the Tribe took all the Chicagoans would give them, collecting the deciding run in the fifth inning when Pitcher Lefty Lee hit Oris Hockett with the bases full.

By winning as the Browns were losing, Cleveland stretched its margin over St. Louis to two full games, and now is five behind Boston.

Today in the second clash of the four-game series Chubby Dean opposes hard luck Edgar Smith on the mound.

Old Stars To Appear

The American league, which holds the upper hand over the National league in world series and all-star game performances of the past few years, will attempt to catch up with its older companion loop tomorrow in baseball's contribution to war relief.

Far behind the senior circuit in funds produced for the armed forces through receipts of designated games, the American league has planned its hopes on the New York Yankees for boosting the total somewhere near the National league's gift of better than a quarter of a million dollars.

The Yankees will be aided by the Washington Senators and both teams will have the help of their brightest stars of former years—Babe Ruth and Walter Johnson.

With Johnson pitching, Ruth will step to the plate between games and attempt to belt the ball out of the park, just as he did no less than 714 times in his 22 years as a major league player.

Advance ticket sales indicate a near-capacity crowd of more than 75,000.

Ruth Clouts Three

Before yesterday's game which opened the New York-Washington series at the Stadium, Ruth did a little practicing. Batting against Gerry Priddy, an infielder, the Babe drove three balls far back into the right field seats.

After their former slugging star retired, the Yankees went out and blasted 21 hits off three Washington pitchers to crush the Senators, 17-7.

The Yankees needed the victory to preserve their 10½-game margin, for the second-place Boston Red Sox whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, in an arc light game, although they were outhit, 12-11.

Bengal Homers Win

Home runs by Barney McCossy and Rudy York sparked a four-run Tiger outburst which carried Detroit to a 4-1 decision over the St. Louis Browns.

The National league program was confined to a pair of afternoon games, but in one of these the St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-2, and reduced the lead of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers to six games and a half.

The Chicago Cubs routed Ray Starr and beat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3, to give Bill Lee his 13th mound success.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Tony Musto, 199, Chicago, outpointed Lee Savold, 190½, Des Moines (10).

NEW YORK — Ray Robinson, 144½, New York, knocked out Reuben Shank, 146¾, Denver (2). George (Sonny) Horne, 150½, of Niles, O., outpointed Milton Kessler, 147, of Brooklyn, in a six-round preliminary.

Harpster Gunner Is Among Leaders At Vandalia Meet

By The Associated Press

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 22—The nation's top marksmen sought today to equal perfect records fired in the opening round of the three-day warm-up for the 43rd annual Grand American trapshooting tournament.

Capt. Phil Miller of Las Vegas, Nev., an army gunnery instructor, and Art Cuscaben of Tampa, Fla., coach of army trapshoot instructors, each broke 100 straight targets in the singles yesterday, while Karl Maust of Columbus, last year's national open champion, knocked off 50 in succession in the doubles race.

Ninety-nine shooters included C. H. Sears of Harpster, Wyandot county; Jerry Tanner of Kings Mills, Warren county, and Lela Hall of Strasburg, Mo., former national women's champion.

P. O. Harbage of West Jefferson, former national champion, and Fay Newlon, New Lexington, were among those shooting 98.

The championship events for $10,000 in prize money open Monday and continue through Friday.

Sportsmen's League Holds Summer Meet

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 22—The summer conference of the League of Ohio Sportsmen opened here today with a series of sports events, including a trapshoot, fishing and boating.

The sportsmen will attend a barbecue supper at the home of Louis Bromfield, Richland county author-farmer, tonight and meet for a business session tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—One thing the war hasn't changed is the pre-season moaning of football coaches . . . Here's a sample from Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, as relayed by tub-thumper Joe Petritz: "If we can get past Wisconsin in the opener, we may have another representative season. We'll consider it an excellent year if we can win six or seven out of our 11 games.

75 COLLEGE ALL-STARS AWAIT FRIDAY BATTLE

Jack Stephenson Member of Collegiate Team To Meet Chicago Bears in Chicago Football Contest.

JACK STEPHENSON and his 74 college All-Star teammates will wind up preparations early next week for their Friday night engagement in Soldiers' Field, Chicago, with the Chicago Bears, national professional football league titlists.

Stephenson, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Stephenson of 488 South Vine street and 1911 Ohio State university grid captain, was one of 12 tackles nominated to the all-star squad in a recent nation-wide poll.

Proceeds from this year's game will be split equally between the army and navy relief funds. More than $160,000, the largest donation from a single sporting event, will probably be realized from the game itself. Also a Chicago Tribune campaign for $100,000 for army relief is well over the top.

Soldiers' Field, a massive steel and concrete structure in Grant park, will be the scene of the ninth annual pro all-star tussle. Located in the very heart of Chicago's lake shore park system, the giant oval stadium is bordered on one side by Lake Michigan and on the other by the outer fringe of Chicago commercialism.

Marion residents who'll attend the game will find it within easy walking distance of the Loop and only a few blocks from the principal Marion-Chicago railway passenger station. Also it is located on the main traffic artery leading into downtown Chicago from the south.

* * *

Since Aug. 8 the All-Star combine under the direction of Bob Zupke, the ex-Illini master, has been waging two-day practices at Dyche stadium, the home field of Northwestern university Wildcats.

In this short period Zupke, aided by a nationally-famous staff, has succeeded in whipping up a really great offensive threat. While his starting line-up, selected by the nation's grid fans, may not represent the strongest possible eleven, he will have a bevy of All-Americans and a great number of unheralded, but talented, footballers from which to pick. All-Star game rules require the fan vote to be observed only so far as the starting line-up is concerned.

Stephenson, former Harding High football flash, ranked fifth in the final All-Star tackle balloting. An Ohio State teammate, Jim Daniell of Pittsburgh, Pa., finished at the top of a list of 35 eligible tackles. Daniell and Al Blozis, Georgetown university star who finished second will be the starting tackles. However, Stephenson is likely to see plenty of action against the Bears.

The Bears, considered one of the greatest all-time football aggregations, will be seeking to repeat their 1941 performance for a number of reasons, chiefly because the professionals have come out ahead in each of the last three pro all-star encounters.

KC WINS PAIR TO GAIN ON COLUMBUS

Red Birds Wallop Colonels as Blues Down St. Paul.

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Blues, using St. Paul as a springboard, have picked up a half game on leading Columbus and now are back in the company of the top three teams of the American Association's dizzy race to the pennant.

The Blues brushed off last-place St. Paul, 8 to 1 and 4 to 1, last night, while Columbus took a single game decision from Louisville, 7 to 1, and Milwaukee bested Minneapolis, 7 to 5.

The percentages:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Columbus | 73 | 60 | .549 |
| Milwaukee | 71 | 61 | .538 |
| Kansas City | 71 | 64 | .525 |

Louisville's infield fell apart as Columbus won the series opener. Only earned run of the contest was Stan Benjamin's homer for the Colonels in the first inning.

Indianapolis derailed Toledo, 7 to 6, in an 11-inning battle.

Dayton-Charleston Clash in Crucial Series.

By The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 22—Second-place Dayton and league-leading Charleston clash here tonight in the first of a three-game series that will be a deciding factor in the Mid-Atlantic league pennant race.

The Ducks defeated Zanesville 7 to 4 last night to move within three and one-half games of the loop leaders.

Canton decisioned Erie 6 to 5 to capture third place, which it lost just a month ago when Dayton stepped ahead of the Terriers in the first stages of its drive to overtake Charleston.

Springfield and Charleston were idle last night.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 22—Cecil Souders, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Souders, West Southeran avenue, has been given a berth on the Ohio State university squad, word from the campus advises.

Souders, a three letter football end with the Bucyrus High school Redmen, was a 1939 graduate. He was honorary captain during his senior year and was selected as an end on the Ohio All-Star team to play at St. Petersburg, Fla. He was a member of freshman squad during his first year at Ohio State.

Hall Leads Rams To Win Over Steelers 35-6

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 22—The Cleveland Rams and their No. 1 forward passer, Parker Hall, are off to an auspicious start of their 1942 grid campaign.

They trampled the Pittsburgh Steelers, 35 to 6, last night in an exhibition game played for the benefit of civilian defense funds in East Liverpool and Wellsville, and today were back in their Hiram camp preparing for their Aug. 30 date in Akron with the New York Giants.

Hall scored two of Cleveland's touchdowns—the first on a three-yard end run and the second on a 93-yard return of a kickoff, and two of his passes figured in the Rams' third and fourth markers

SOFTBALL TOURNEY IN QUARTER-FINALS

Defending Champs Advance in State Meet.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—Eight teams clashed today in the second half of first-round play in the annual Ohio softball tournament.

Toledo Krantz, defending state champions, won a place in tonight's quarter-finals by defeating Lorain CIO 2 to 0 last night. Columbus Ferguson Auditors eliminated Youngstown Donnell Fords 2-1; Canton Mats, Inc., downed De Graff 11 to 5, and Dayton blanked Ft. Hayes, 1 to 0.

The titleholders garnered only one hit, a double in the fourth, but two errors made it good for two runs. Dayton's lone score came in the fourth on a walk, a sacrifice and an error. The Auditors pushed over the winning run in the extra eighth inning. Canton tallied four in the sixth to break a two-all tie, then came back with five more in the seventh to crush De Graff.

Semi-finals will be played tomorrow afternoon and the championship will be decided that night.

Four Appointments Complete Public School Coaching Staff

Joseph F. Petrich, Present Edison Coach, Is Named Assistant Harding Grid Coach; Three Junior High Mentors Signed.

Appointment of Joseph F. Petrich, Edison Junior High school head coach, as assistant Harding High school football coach and the addition of three new junior high school coaches completes Marion public school coaching staff.

Dewey N. Bonyer, Harding athletic director and basketball mentor, Howard Hoffman, reserve football coach and Central Junior High school basketball coach, and Petrich are the only returning members of the staff. The latter succeeds George Niemi, now in the navy.

JOSEPH F. PETRICH

Petrich has coached at Edison for two years. Last year he became head coach succeeding C. Brickley, who resigned to enter NYA work. For one year Petrich was assistant coach to Brickley.

Before coming to Marion he was head football, basketball and track coach at Barnesville for one year. He also coached for two years at Russia, a Class B school.

He was graduated in 1936 from Miami university with a bachelor of science degree. At Miami he played football, basketball and baseball for three years. As a senior at Lane Technical school, Chicago, Petrich was honored as first string all-city high fullback choice.

As previously announced, Victor Dorris, a former Ohio State football star, has accepted the head coaching post, replacing William O. "Bill" Williams, who resigned to take a similar post at University High school, Columbus. Dorris came to Harding from Granville, where he coached two years.

Robert McCracken, who graduated in June from Ohio Wesleyan university, has been signed to handle coaching duties at Central Junior High school. He succeeds Ralph Simpson, who is a member of the U. S. navy's physical fitness staff.

Thomas A. Edison's new coach is Edward Cooney, who comes here from Wellsville. He is a graduate of Ohio university and takes over the post held last year jointly by Petrich and F. Brown, now a coast guard member.

Samuel Cook, who last year was a member of the North Robinson faculty in Crawford county, is the new Vernon Heights coach. He is a graduate of Ashland college and replaces Kenneth Sampson, new Upper Sandusky High school coach.

Buckeye Gridders To Begin Practice Sessions Sept. 7

24 Untried Sophomores Hold Key To Ohio State Grid Success.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—Five weeks from opening kickoff, Ohio State university's 1942 football hopes revolved today around a crop of untried sophomores.

Coach Paul E. Brown, issuing his initial practice call, summoned 24 sophomores, 16 juniors and three seniors. Some of the sophomores may win starting berths, but all must be good enough to provide the vital reserve strength needed by Brown in molding a top-flight Western conference team from the handful of available veterans.

Practice starts Sept. 7, with twice-a-day sessions through Sept. 19. Then the squad will taper off with once-a-day workouts until the opening tilt with the army's Fort Knox team in the stadium Sept. 26.

Ordering the candidates to report Sept. 5 for uniform fittings and physical examinations, Brown said:

"From the time we gather on Sept. 5 until the last game is completed, we shall be together constantly. We'll fight it out, for better or worse, as just one solid group.

"We are faced with a long (10-game) and most difficult schedule. You must be at your best, both physically and mentally, to meet it. Between now and when you report it is absolutely imperative that you work out daily. If you report out of condition you simply do not represent our type of man—and we can't use you."

Reviewing the tough competition faced this year, Brown pointed to Michigan as the conference season windup game and declared:

"We would rather lick them than all the rest of our opponents put together."

Brown's Bucks last year gave him a successful first season in the Western conference, losing only one game and tying a favored Michigan eleven 20-20.

Nineteen veterans, only a few of whom saw consistent service last season, will be available this year.

SCENE FROM DISNEY CARTOON FEATURE, "BAMBI," AT PALACE

Russell Hayden. The picture is laid against a background of the historic fight of the Republic of Texas to be accepted as a state in the thrilling period following the battle of the Alamo.

Showing with this film is "True to the Army," the army camp comedy starring Judy Canova, Allan Jones, Ann Miller and Jerry Colonna.

The above picture is from Walt Disney's latest cartoon in technicolor, "Bambi" based on Felix Salten's novel. "Bambi" is now showing at the Palace theater.

The average investments of the approximately 2,000 American corporations that had direct investments in foreign countries at the end of 1940 was 2,500,000.

Disney's "Bambi" Picture in Technicolor at Palace

Walt Disney's "Bambi," is being shown today through Tuesday at the Palace theater. It is a drama in technicolor of a little deer's life as told in the novel by Felix Salten. This is the first time a best seller has inspired a Disney feature. "Bambi" was a book of the month selection. It is one of Hollywood's latest releases and its showing in Marion is said to be one of the first in the mid-west.

Showing with "Bambi" is "Blondie for Victory," starring Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake. Blondie goes all-out to win the war, leaving Dagwood all-in with the job of feeding himself and the rest of the Bumstead brood. Unlike most of its predecessors, this film places Blondie in the difficult position of being wrong, a position usually reserved for Dagwood. Larry Simms, Stuart Erwin and Daisy, the dog, head the supporting cast.

Wednesday Richard Dix, Kent Taylor, Edgar Buchanan and Frances Gifford will appear in "Tombstone—The Town Too Tough to Die." There will also be a color cartoon "Woodman, Spare That Tree," and Andy Clyde in "All Work and No Play."

Showing Thursday through Saturday will be Norma Shearer, Robert Taylor, and George Sanders in "Her Cardboard Lover," the story of a delightful girl in a fashionable resort who fears to marry the man she loves because of his instability. In order to elude him she employs another youth who is madly in love with her to act as a sort of bodyguard. Robert Taylor impersonates the latter with George Sanders as the playboy. Naturally this arrangement develops complications and it also brings on a pitched battle between Taylor and Sanders. Frank McHugh and Elizabeth Patterson have comedy roles in support.

Added to the feature attraction will be the March of Time's "Men in Washington—1942" and Fitzpatrick's "Picturesque Patzcuaro."

Charlie Chaplin Picture on Twin Program at State

In "The Gold Rush," playing at the State theater Sunday and Monday, Charlie Chaplin not only gets the girl of his dreams but becomes a multi-millionaire too. It is a story of the gold rush to the Klondike. Featured with this film is "Kisses for Breakfast," starring Dennis Morgan and Jane Wyatt.

Showing Tuesday and Wednesday are William Gargan and Peggy Moran in "Flying Cadets" and "Nevada City," with Roy Rogers and George "Gabby" Hayes.

Brian Donlevy and Maria Montez are featured in "South of Tahiti," playing Thursday through Saturday. "Rovin' Tumbleweeds," with Gene Autry and Mary Carlisle completes the bill.

Ohio Shows War Pictures

Tyrone Power and Joan Fontaine are the stars of "This Above All," currently showing through Friday at the Ohio theater. It is the story of Clive Briggs, a deserter from the British army after the siege of Dunkirk, and Prudence Cathaway, a member of the WAAF. Prudence wants Clive to return to the army, but he is bitter about war.

This film, though in production prior to the outbreak of events on Dec. 7, had no changes made in it because of America's entry into the war, as did most productions, "pointing-up" the stories with current headlines. The reason, producers said, was that "This Above All" is the type of universal love story that could have happened in any war, in any age or in any country.

Featured in supporting soles are Thomas Mitchell, Henry Stephenson, Nigel Bruce, Gladys Cooper, Philip Merivale, Sara Allgood and Alexander Knox.

"Footlight Serenade," with Betty Grable, John Payne and Victor Mature will begin a seven-day run Friday. It is a musical comedy concerning a boxing champ turned dancer in the person of Victor Mature. He and John Payne are rivals for Betty Grable, and Betty can't make up her mind. Neither could scenarists when they were plotting the romantic course of the filmusical, for Vic and John are both successful cinema suitors of long standing and neither wanted a blotch on his record. So—the director settled the problem by flipping a coin. The one who won the toss won Miss Grable!

The film is filled with girls, tunes from the pens of Robin and Rainger and dance numbers. Jane Wyman, James Gleason, Phil Silvers and Cobina Wright, Jr., head the supporting cast.

STARS OF "THIS ABOVE ALL" AT OHIO

Joan Fontaine and Tyrone Power appear in "This Above All" at the Ohio theater currently through Thursday.

PETROLEUM COMMITTEE TO SURVEY OHIO SUPPLY

Group Will Meet With Bricker Friday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22 — A petroleum study committee will meet with Gov. Bricker here next Friday to plan a survey of Ohio's gasoline and oil supplies.

The committee was appointed yesterday after New England legislators called for extension of gasoline rationing to the midwest and petroleum Coordinator Harold I. Ickes prohibited railroad delivery of automobile gasoline in 20 midwestern and southwestern states, including Ohio.

Petroleum industry observers asserted, however, that rationing would not be necessary as a result of Icke's order, intended to release an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 tank cars for supplying the gasoline-rationed east.

A Cleveland oil company official, who declined use of his name, said such an order had been expected for some time and that practically all Ohio shipments were moved by truck.

The committee is headed by Eric V. Weber, president of Eureka Oil Co., Cincinnati.

Man in Bigamy Case Passes First Army Test

Forest Woodrow Reed, accused bigamist held at county jail, was a step nearer his freedom today. He passed a preliminary physical examination preparatory to possible induction in the army, which may free him from the bigamy charge under Mrs. Reed's promise to drop charges when he dons khaki. He underwent the screening test at the office of a Marion physician, being taken there in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Roy Retterer. He will remain in county jail pending orders from his Hardin county draft board for induction either Aug. 27 or Sept. 5.

SOME STOCKS MOVE UP TODAY

Belief Allies Ready for Blast in War Helps Improve Market Tone.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Selected stocks continued to reach for higher levels in today's brief market proceedings although many leaders lacked recovery animation.

Aiding buying sentiment to some extent was the cheerful war news from the Pacific and the growing belief in financial circles that the United Nations were getting ready for a real blast at the Nazis in Europe.

Low-priced stocks, most of which were unchanged to up a shade, came out in sizable blocks and helped expand the two-hour volume at around 200,000 shares, one of the largest Saturday turnovers for the year to date.

The list edged forward in spots at the start.

A bolstering influence was a break in the recent dividend casualty column with Sparks-Withington directors voting a 25-cent dividend on the common, first payment since 1931. The stock was a lively performer at a new top since 1940.

Moving picture company stocks maintained their balance fairly well in the face of a WPB warning that material shortages might make it increasingly difficult to keep all theaters open for the duration.

Postal Telegraph preferred hit a new year's peak and Western Union drew a following as business for both companies was reported mounting and the outlook for the long-talked-of merger brightened.

In the new high division were Goodyear, U. S. Rubber preferred, Texas & Pacific Railway, Amerada, Standard Oil of Cal and Otis Elevator.

Carrier bonds tilted upward and commodities were lower.

PIONEER TEACHER IN MARION COUNTY DIES

Thomas A. McNeal Was Noted Kansas Citizen.

E. H. Huggins of 549 Delaware avenue, has received word of the death of Thomas A. McNeal, 88, native of Marion, and one of the most widely known and beloved editors in Kansas, which occurred Aug. 7 at his home. He would have celebrated his 89th birthday Oct. 14 this year.

He was born on a farm in Marion county to Allen and Rachel McNeal. He attended Ohio Central college at Iberia, Oberlin college and Hillsdale college at Hillsdale, Mich. He taught in the county schools here and Mr. Huggins and the late Miss Louise Cunningham were among his pupils. He went to Kansas when he was 26 years old. Surviving are two children, Miss Louise McNeal, head of the Kansas State library in Topeka, and Allen McNeal, a broker in New York City. His wife was Miss Anne Belle McPherson of New York. She died in June 1920.

Mr. McNeal was well known as an editor and also as a speaker. He was a close associate of Senator Arthur Capper and for nearly half a century was the key man in the Capper publications.

Mr. McNeal taught in a school just east of the Harding Memorial and also in the Farnum district on the Prospect road. A sister Lizzie McNeal also taught in the county schools. A brother, Joe McNeal went to Kansas several years before Mr. McNeal.

Congressional Rivals File Identical Expense Lists

Political observers smilingly wondered today if congressional campaign costs were becoming standardized.

Several days ago Brooks Fletcher of Marion listed his expenditures in his successful campaign for the Democratic nomination for Eighth district congressman at $559.

Yesterday, The Associated Press reported from Columbus that Fletcher's principal rival, Dr. C. J. Altmaier of Marion, had spent exactly the same amount —$559.

Dr. Altmaier somewhat spoiled the coincidence by adding that a committee spent $108 in support of his candidacy.

Masons Complete Plans for Picnic

Final plans for a picnic to be held tonight at the Marion Country club were made last night at a meeting of Marion lodge No. 70, Free and Accepted Masons.

The lodge will confer the entered apprentice degree on a class of candidates Aug. 28 and the Fellowcraft degree will be conferred Sept. 4. Sept. 10 members of lodge No. 70 will go to Caledonia to assist in the conferring of the master Masons degree at a meeting of the Masonic associaiton of the fifteenth district. The honored guest at the meeting will be Charles B. Hoffman of Dayton, grand master of Ohio Masons. Sept. 11, Marion lodge will confer the master Masons degree.

Marion Men Hurt In Crash Fatal To Carey Trucker

Two Marion men narrowly escaped serious injury in yesterday's train-truck collision in which 19-year-old Paul Edward Cantleberry of Carey was fatally hurt.

The Marion men, Ralph F. Miller, 33, of 384 Hane avenue and Iver C. Hansen, 22, of 1... Garden street, were seated in a passenger automobile parked near the grade crossing. The car was hit by Cantleberry's truck.

Miller, a civil engineer employed in surveying work by Holabird & Root and his companion suffered severe shock. Miller was treated at the Scioto Ordnance plant field hospital.

Auto Damaged

The automobile, owned by Miller, was damaged about the rear and left side when Cantleberry's truck was thrown into it by the impact with the train. Scene of the accident was the Williamsport road crossing one-fourth mile northwest of the junction of routes 30-S and 98.

Cantleberry's body was removed to the Bristol funeral home in Carey where services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. Rev. B. L. Lee will officiate and burial will be made in Springgrove cemetery.

Carey Native

The victim was born in Carey on March 2, 1923, the son of Asa and Mary Walters Cantleberry. He graduated from Carey High school in 1941 and was a member of Memorial Evangelical church, of the Carey I. O. O. F. and L. O. O. M. lodges.

He is survived by his father, who resides in Carey at 305 Glen avenue and a sister, Miss Mattie Cantleberry of Columbus.

MARION CO. MAN IN AIR FORCE PROMOTED

Son of Waldo Pastor Becomes First Lieutenant.

Paul H. Long, son of the Lutheran minister at Waldo, Rev. Samuel C. Long and Mrs. Long, has been advanced to the rank of first lieutenant in the army air forces, according to word from the public relations officer at Westover Field, Mass.

Lt. Long joined the air corps in August 1941 and attended the Air Corps Technical school at Scott Field. He graduated and received his commission in January of this year.

A graduate of Capital university, Columbus, he received his B. S. degree with the class of 1936. While at the university he majored in physical and biological science. Subsequently, he attended Ohio State university for two years, working towards his master's degree.

Lt. Long was an athlete at college, playing varsity basketball at Capital, and captaining the team in his senior year. He also was on the baseball and track teams.

Before entering the service, Lt. Long was a teacher and coach at Gahanna High school. He is stationed at Westover Field air base near Springfield, Mass., and is on duty as a communications officer with an air force unit on the field.

Good Wool Demand Continues in Boston

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Aug. 22—The Commercial Bulletin said today of the Boston wool market:

"There has been a continuing good demand for fine and half-blood territory and Texas combing wools this week but beyond that the turnover has been distinctly restricted. Prices are right up flush with the ceilings.

"Western operations have been confined chiefly to South Dakota and Wyoming. At Belle Fourche, several firms cleared up about two million pounds at 44-45 cents. Some fair fine 12-months wools were taken in Wyoming at 39 cents and some eight months wools were taken in Texas at 39-39½ cents.

"The manufacturing situation is without material change. The trade is expecting lease-lend orders from the government shortly.

"Foreign primary markets are slow. South American quotations are sharply lowered and more interest is shown on that account.

"Mohair continues dull, in spite of the recent OPA release of the staple to civilian uses."

The paper published these Ohio quotations:

Domestic fleeces—Delaine, unwashed 46-49; ½ blood combing 46-48; ⅜ blood combing 49-50, ¼ blood combing 49-50.

STOCK PRICES ABOVE PARITY

Sheep Only Laggards; Most Above 110 Per Cent. Comparison Reveals.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 — (Wide World)—A comparison of farm and parity prices today disclosed that all livestock, with the exception of sheep, are selling well above parity levels. Most prices are also higher than 110 per cent of parity.

Attention was focused on parity prices this week when Secretary of Agriculture Wickard urged farmers to forego a provision of the price control law prohibiting ceilings at less than 110 per cent of parity. Wickard said the law should permit a ceiling at 100 per cent.

Livestock men pointed out that the law does not make ceilings mandatory at 110 per cent, and would not at 100 per cent. Ceilings could not be placed on livestock without the approval of the secretary of agriculture, regardless of where live animals were selling in relation to parity figures.

As far as livestock men were concerned, therefore, any debate over what the law should say was regarded as highly academic. They said the question was not where the theoretical ceiling should be, but whether or not any move was to be made to bring into operation such provisions of the law as now exist.

On that point, Secretary Wickard said he would approve livestock ceilings "if a practical plan for livestock marketing can be evolved." There were few men in livestock circles who thought it possible to evolve such a "practical plan" because of the numerous classifications and qualities of livestock.

The following table shows the actual farm price and the parity price on livestock on July 15, the last date for which such information is available.

| | Farm Price | Parity Price |
|---|---|---|
| Hogs (100 lbs.) | $13.78 | $11.05 |
| Beef Cattle | 10.70 | 8.24 |
| Veal Calves | 12.56 | 10.26 |
| Sheep | 5.53 | 6.89 |
| Lambs | 11.82 | 8.04 |

Hogs closed 10 to 15 cents under the 22 year peaks of last week-end. Steers were a shade lower as demand eased somewhat late in the week. Spring lambs, meeting active demand, closed 25 to 40 cents higher.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Child Starts in School

FOR THE CHILD just starting school, the final human problem begins. He is face to face with his fellow human beings. No matter how well some of them get along with each other, fundamentally they are rivals.

Whether in friendship or in competition, the child begins to go on trial. The trial judge whose name is Nature is fair, impartial, but ruthless. The loving supplications of parents have no influence. The child had better be a well equipped physically as possible to make it.

For the parents are on trial too. In the first place they are on trial to see that their child has good health—as good as luck and circumstances have permitted. Whether or not the law requires your child to have a health examination before entering school, the parents of the child will be building for the future happiness of the child if such an examination is made.

The first and most important feature of physical examination is to determine the status of the child's general nutrition. This does not mean that the child has to conform to a standard chart of height and weight. Some of the healthiest children are short and underweight and some of the least healthy are tall and fat.

But general nutrition and endurance are guide posts to the health of many organs and systems of the body, and poor nutrition is shown in the skin, the growth record, the impulse to activity, the appetite and 100 other things may indicate something wrong in some special part—blood, heart, teeth, tonsils, chronic lymphatic infection or what.

The teeth should have attention even though half of them are the temporary set. An examination of a cross section of Chicago's school children a few years ago showed that out of 8,315 pupils examined, only 322 were considered by the dentists to have perfect teeth. In the whole group there were 4 1-3 decayed teeth per pupil and 1 2-3 fillings per pupil. The report concluded: "It shows clearly the urgent dental need of school children, and we urge every parent to cooperate and see that their children are given proper dental care."

The child in the world of school begins to use his eyes and ears competitively. Before this he may have got by with considerable visual defect, but those days are over. He must hear and understand exactly what the teacher says, he must see clearly and accurately the printed page.

Learning to read is the most important single accomplishment of a civilized human being after he has learned the great fundamentals of walking, talking, seeing and hearing, coodinating all his muscles, feeding himself, and taking care of his skin and vegetative functions.

The child who cannot learn to read is usually neither dull nor mentally lazy. The correction of obvious visual errors will suggest itself at once. There are other factors. In a study of 25 non-readers, all with good I. Q.'s, Kirkpatrick, of New York, found that 13 were timid, 19 had been read to at home and lacked initiative, 10 lived in homes where a foreign language was spoken.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

LILLIAN'S voice was tremulous, eager, poignant with suffering. I wondered if Carolyn's apparent hardness and cynical stoicism could hold out against Marion's mother.

"I don't know whether she's asleep or not," I said, "but if you want to see her she shall come here immediately. Although she probably won't be in an amiable mood, she's not likely to take it out on you.

"I'm her bete noir. She strongly resented being locked into her room, even though I explaind that it was meant only for her protection."

"Sapphira!" Lillian said with a wan smile.

Nurse Gives Permission

"That is what Carolyn evidently thought," I returned. "She said vehemently that she did not need our brand of protection, and was generally disagreeable. But we cannot leave her over there indefinitely, and since you want to see her, I'll rush her over. But," with a glance at Miss Whitlock, "do you feel strong enough to talk to her now?"

"Let me take your pulse first," said the nurse, stepping to Lillian's side, and a minute later she looked up with a smile.

"As I've told you so many times before, you're one of the seven original wonders, or is it eight?" she said. "Your pulse is as strong and regular as if you had been under no strain whatever, yet before you went to sleep—"

"The old pump was acting up," Lillian said. "I know all about it. Plenty of sleep is my salvation. So it's all irght for me to talk to Carolyn now?"

"All right," Miss Whitlock said, "if you wish to."

"Then, Madge," and Lillian looked at me appealingly, "would you mind going after her?"

"Not in the least," I told Lillian mendaciously, for I felt like anything in the world but seeing Carolyn Brixton.

Finds Room Empty

I went down the corridor and after unlocking Carolyn's door, I rapped on it, at first softly, then, in mounting alarm at the silence, more loudly. Still there was no answer, and raising my voice I called insistently: "Carolyn! Carolyn! Wake up!"

No slightest sound came from inside the room and, alarmed almost to the point of panic, I pushed open the door and went in.

The room was empty. The bed showed a depression where the girl apparently had been lying.

Why, before looking further, I noiselessly locked the door, then put the key into my gown, I do not know.

Planned To Escape

As I stepped inside the bathroom, finding it also empty, there was a swish of garments behind me, and I turned to see Carolyn, fully dressed and with her small overnight bag and purse in her hands, trying the door, to which she evidently had dashed from the clothes closet which I had not yet had time to search.

"Oh! Oh!" she said wildly as she tugged vainly at the door.

"You locked it again," she accused me with blazing eyes.

"Yes, after debating the question in my mind," I told her coolly. "The result shows that I was right, doesn't it?"

For an instant I thought she would strike me. Then the hand which had been clenched into a fist relaxed, the bag in her other hand dropped to the floor with a sound of breaking glass inside it and, turning, she flung herself downward upon the bed.

"Go away!" she muttered, then burst into wild, hysterical sobbing.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, Aug. 23

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows particularly lively and eventful developments in all sorts of cultural, intellectual and mystical matters. Writings, contracts and open as well as secret agreements may forge ahead at high tension and with successful results, despite petty annoyances.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of a year of unusual action and liveliness in many directions and affecting all the life interests, business as well as private. Writings, correspondence, travel, change, agencies, publicity and kindred affairs should be under excellent stimulus for achievement. Personal pleasure, possibly romantic attachments, should thrive, despite trivial setbacks, impediments and surprises.

A child born on this day should be unusually talented and versatile, with fine intellectual equipment and artistic skill for any number of vocations.
